AMERICAN EDUCATIONAL CATALOGUE FOR 1880.

[PUBLISHERS' PRICES.[

NOTICE.—In this Catalogue only prices made by publishers themselves are given—retail if retail, in first column; "net" (wholesale), if "net," in second column; where a "mailing" percentage is specified by the publisher, the "mailing price" is given in the retail column marked with an asterisk (*), in addition to the wholesale price. When price-columns are left blank, the publisher failed, on application, to furnish price. A double asterisk () in price-columns designates books forthcoming. New books, issued since the publication of the Catalogue of 1879, are designated by a single asterisk (*) before title.

☞ In comparing prices or ordering at retail, private buyers should bear in mind that a percentage must be added to prices quoted at wholesale, to cover freight, handling, delivering, etc. Discounts on quantities to schools vary on different lines, according to the kind of prices adopted by the respective publishers.

For subject classification (and for collective references to classic authors entered here under separate editors), see the second part of the Catalogue, following this main alphabet.

dead, and quickeneth them; even so the Son quickeneth whom he will.

22 For the Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgment unto the Son:

23 That all men should honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. He that honoureth not the Son honoureth not the Father which hath sent him.

24 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life.

25 Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live.

26 For as the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself;

27 And hath given him authority to execute judgment also, because he is the Son of man.

28 Marvel not at this: for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice,

29 And shall come forth; they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation.

30 I can of mine own self do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and my judgment is just; because I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me.

31 If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true.

32 ¶ There is another that beareth witness of me; and I know that the witness which he witnesseth of me is true.

33 Ye sent unto John, and he bare witness unto the truth.

34 But I receive not testimony from man: but these things I say, that ye might be saved.

35 He was a burning and a shining light: and ye were willing for a season to rejoice in his light.

36 ¶ But I have greater witness than that of John: for the works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me.

37 And the Father himself, which hath sent me, hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen his shape.

38 And ye have not his word abiding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye believe not.

39 ¶ Search the Scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me.

40 And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life.

41 I receive not honour from men.

42 But I know you, that ye have not the love of God in you.

43 I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not: if another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive.

44 How can ye believe, which receive honour one of another, and seek not the honour that cometh from God only?

45 Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father: there is one that accuseth you, even Moses, in whom ye trust.

46 For had ye believed Moses, ye would have believed me: for he wrote of me.

47 But if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words?

CHAPTER VI.

1 Christ feedeth five thousand men with five loaves and two fishes. 15 Thereupon the people would have made him king. 16 But withdrawing himself, he walketh on the sea to his disciples: 26 reproveth the people flocking after him, and all the fleshly hearers of his word: 32 declareth himself to be the bread of life to believers. 66 Many disciples depart from him. 68 Peter confesseth him. 70 Judas is a devil.

AFTER these things Jesus went over the sea of Galilee, which is the sea of Tiberias.

2 And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which he did on them that were diseased.

3 And Jesus went up into a mountain, and there he sat with his disciples.

4 And the passover, a feast of the Jews, was nigh.

5 ¶ When Jesus then lifted up his eyes, and saw a great company come unto him, he saith unto Philip, Whence shall we buy bread, that these may eat?

6 And this he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do.

7 Philip answered him, Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little.

8 One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, saith unto him,

9 There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves, and two small fishes: but what are they among so many?

10 And Jesus said, Make the men sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand.

11 And Jesus took the loaves; and when he had given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down; and likewise of the fishes as much as they would.

12 When they were filled, he said unto his disciples, Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost.

13 Therefore they gathered them together, and filled twelve baskets with the fragments of the five barley loaves,

Christ asserteth CHAPTER VI. his power.

26 For as the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself;
27 And hath given him authority to execute judgment also, because he is the Son of man.
28 Marvel not at this: for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice,
29 And shall come forth; they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation.
30 I can of mine own self do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and my judgment is just; because I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me.
31 If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true.
32 ¶ There is another that beareth witness of me; and I know that the witness which he witnesseth of me is true.
33 Ye sent unto John, and he bare witness unto the truth.
34 But I receive not testimony from man: but these things I say, that ye might be saved.
35 He was a burning and a shining light: and ye were willing for a season to rejoice in his light.
36 ¶ But I have greater witness than that of John: for the works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me.
37 And the Father himself, which hath sent me, hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen his shape.
38 And ye have not his word abiding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye believe not.
39 ¶ Search the Scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me.
40 And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life.
41 I receive not honour from men.
42 But I know you, that ye have not the love of God in you.
43 I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not: if another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive.
44 How can ye believe, which receive honour one of another, and seek not the honour that cometh from God only?
45 Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father: there is one that accuseth you, even Moses, in whom ye trust.
46 For had ye believed Moses, ye would have believed me: for he wrote of me.
47 But if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words?

CHAPTER VI.

Five thousand fed.

AFTER these things Jesus went over the sea of Galilee, which is the sea of Tiberias.
2 And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which he did on them that were diseased.
3 And Jesus went up into a mountain, and there he sat with his disciples.
4 And the passover, a feast of the Jews, was nigh.
5 ¶ When Jesus then lifted up his eyes, and saw a great company come unto him, he saith unto Philip, Whence shall we buy bread, that these may eat?
6 And this he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do.
7 Philip answered him, Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little.
8 One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, saith unto him,
9 There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves, and two small fishes: but what are they among so many?
10 And Jesus said, Make the men sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand.
11 And Jesus took the loaves; and when he had given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down; and likewise of the fishes as much as they would.

poor dear. She must be well brought up, and well guarded from reposing any foolish confidences where they are not deserved. I must make that my care."

There was a twitch of Miss Betsey's head, after each of these sentences, as if her own old wrongs were working within her, and she repressed any plainer reference to them by strong constraint. So my mother suspected, at least, as she observed her by the low glimmer of the fire: too much scared by Miss Betsey, too uneasy in herself, and too subdued and bewildered altogether, to observe anything very clearly, or to know what to say.

"And was David good to you, child?" asked Miss Betsey when she had been silent for a little while, and these motions of her head had gradually ceased. "Were you comfortable together?"

"We were very happy," said my mother. "Mr. Copperfield was only too good to me."

"What! he spoilt you, I suppose?" returned Miss Betsey.

"For being quite alone and dependent on myself in this rough world again, yes, I fear he did indeed," sobbed my mother.

"Well! Don't cry!" said Miss Betsey. "You were not equally matched, child—if any two people can be equally matched—and so I asked the question. You were an orphan, weren't you?"

"Yes."

"And a governess?"

"I was nursery governess in a family where Mr. Copperfield came to visit. Mr. Copperfield was very kind to me, and took a great deal of notice of me, and paid me a good deal of attention, and at last proposed to me. And I accepted him, and so we were married," said my mother simply.

"Ha! Poor Baby!" mused Miss Betsey, with her frown still bent upon the fire. "Do you know anything?"

"I beg your pardon, ma'am," faltered my mother.

"About keeping house, for instance," said Miss Betsey.

THE BOOK FOR THE TIMES.

Catholics Should Read It!

Non-Catholics OUGHT to Read It!

THE

True Faith of our Forefathers

By P. CARLO PICCIRILLO, d.C. d.G.

Professor of Theology in Woodstock College, Md.

This work presents in a plain and practical form the principal tenets of the Catholic Church. It is controversial in character, and is a REFUTATION of Dr. Stearns's "Faith of our Forefathers," as well as a VINDICATION of Archbishop Gibbons's "Faith of our Fathers." It is not addressed especially to "Catholics or non-Catholics," but to the public at large.

Although controversial in character, this volume is not a mere occasional refutation of particular errors, but is an examination of all the main points at issue between Catholics and Protestants. The testimony of the "Fathers of the early Church" are very abundant and quoted in full from original sources.

THE CLERGY will find in it all the information needed for instructions, doctrinal sermons, and controversy.

THE LAITY will be made acquainted with the answers to the principal objections against Catholic dogma, as well as the truths of the Catholic Church, which it is the duty of every one to know.

PROTESTANTS of every denomination will find in it a plain and full exposition of the principal tenets of the Catholic Church, with the main arguments and authorities to support them.

It will form a valuable addition to every library, and the dignified and moderate tone of the book will ensure its popularity among all classes of readers.

In order to bring this work within the means of all we shall issue a

"THE NEWARK CATECHISM."

A SIMPLE, ORDERLY, AND COMPREHENSIVE

CATECHISM

CATHOLIC RELIGION,

APPROVED BY THE Right Rev. M. A. CORRIGAN, D.D., Bishop of Newark.

This little Catechism, which has been prepared by the Rev. M. L. Glennon, Assistant Pastor of St. Bridget's Church, Jersey City, for the use of the smaller children attending the Parish Schools, tries to explain the Christian Doctrine in short and easy words. Having been duly examined, it is hereby approved, and recommended to be used in this Diocese.

✠ M. A. CORRIGAN, Bishop of Newark.

NEWARK, May 29, 1879.

Although there is a great variety of Catechisms already in use, there is not one, to our knowledge, that can be considered suited in every respect to the wants of those who are beginning to learn the Catholic doctrine.

The "COMPREHENSIVE CATECHISM OF THE CATHOLIC RELIGION" realizes the ideal of a first book of instruction in the Catholic Religion. It is simple, without, however, sacrificing any of the terms that are consecrated by the usage of the Church.

It is orderly. Each chapter naturally follows the preceding.

It is also much more comprehensive than small Catechisms usually are, and contains at least five full chapters of useful matter that were not given in any former Catechism.

We are confident that by using it teachers shall find their work much easier, and persons who learn it shall have a full and well-defined view of the doctrines and practices of the Catholic Religion.

AN

American Almanac and Treasury of Facts,

STATISTICAL, FINANCIAL, AND POLITICAL,

For the Year 1880.

Edited by AINSWORTH R. SPOFFORD, Librarian of Congress.

This book is a cyclopædia of statistical facts, gathered by large experience from official and documentary sources, and arranged in the most compact form for instant use and reference. Containing, as it does, the essence of a multitude of volumes, its four hundred and twenty pages fairly bristle with facts and figures illustrating almost every topic in economic science.

The merest glance at the table of contents, or at the ready-reference index at the end of the volume, will suffice to show any intelligent man how rich and varied are the topics embraced.

No work, issued in years, has received more flattering commendations from the leading journals of the country.

Bound in a handsome duodecimo volume, 420 pages, scarlet cloth, - Price $1.50.

THE NEW GOSPEL OF PEACE,

According to ST. BENJAMIN.

By RICHARD GRANT WHITE.

1 Volume 12mo, English Cloth, - - - - - - $2.00

The Gospel of Peace, which was in its day both a jest and an argument, has become history. It was one of the forces of the times during which it was issued. The occasion for its publication having passed, the demand for it also for a time ceased. But within a year or two the demand has again risen, partly to satisfy a younger generation, which wishes to inform itself thoroughly about the story of the last, partly to complete the historical collections of older readers, and partly because the reputation of its author has since been deservedly growing. For Mr. Richard Grant White, to whose serious and valuable labors in other fields we need not further allude, now for the first time permits us to plainly announce that he is the author of the famous series which constitute the "New Gospel," and that fact itself will lead many to examine the pages of the most humorous and most caustic hits of our times.

SUNDAY ALL THE WEEK. By the author of "Pond Lily Stories." 16mo.

THE GUERNSEY STORIES. Containing Betsy's Bedquilt and Cub's Apple. 16mo.

"The Misses Guernsey are well known to American readers. 'Irish Amy' and 'Scrub Hollow,' and many other books written by Lucy Ellen and Clara Frances Guernsey, are still favorites."

Seventy-Five Cents Each.

LITTLE MOTHER. By the author of "Little Rosy's Travels." 16mo.

ANGLO-AMERICAN BIBLE REVISION. A book for every lover of the Bible. 12mo. cloth.

OUR WESTERN HOME. A Story from Life. By the author of "Daniel Tracey's Store," "Fernwood," &c. 16mo.

STORY OF THE WRECK OF THE AUSTRALIAN STEAMER LONDON. 16mo.

JASPER, THE CARVER; and AUNT GRACIE'S TRUST. Three engravings. 16mo, cloth.

"Boys and girls will find something better than mere amusement in the story of Jasper and Nannette."

THE STORY OF A HESSIAN. A Tale of the Revolution in New Jersey. By Lucy Ellen Guernsey. 16mo.

THE BIBLE IN THE COUNTING-HOUSE. A Course of Lectures to Merchants. By Rev. H. A. Boardman, D. D., author of "The Higher Life," "The Great Question," &c. With an introduction by the Right Rev. Robert Bickersteth, D. D., Bishop of Ripon. 16mo.

Eighty Cents Each.

CECIL'S AUTUMN ADVENTURES. By the author of "Cecil's Summer at Elm Terrace." 16mo.

CHILDREN'S HEARTS AND HANDS. 16mo.

"This is a very pleasantly-written story, showing that loving hearts and willing hands can accomplish a great deal of good in this world."

SHORT STORIES FOR THE LITTLE ONES AT HOME. By Rev. J. W. Alexander, D.D. 16mo.

THE CHILD'S BOOK OF BALLADS. 16mo.

Eighty-Five Cents Each.

CHRISTMAS WITH THE BOYS. By the author of "Ruth Allerton." 202 pp. 16mo.

"A charming book, full of Christmas stories. Joe Clarkson's 'gray mittens' not only kept his hands warm, but helped him wonderfully in other ways. Then Dr. Maxwell's gift to Pete and Davy will interest the boys. 'How Fred Harvey came to himself;' and 'Uncle Jack's Stories about the Kaffirs;' 'Jessie Owen and the Holly Berries;' closing with the 'History of a Christmas Story Book.' An excellent book, and our boys, and girls too, will be interested in reading it, and at the same time learn some useful lessons."

FERNWOOD; or, Hattie's Birthday Visit. 16mo.

"A story of a pleasant summer spent by Hattie Winslow with her grandmother, at Fernwood farm."

HISTORICAL TALES FOR YOUNG PROTESTANTS. With 31 illustrations. 16mo. 202 pp.

"A most interesting, instructive and stirring volume for our young friends."

HOW THE KINGDOM CAME TO LITTLE JOY. 16mo.

"A story of a little lame orphan girl."

THE SUNDAY-SCHOOL EXHIBITION AND ITS CONSEQUENCES. 16mo.

"Exhibits in a narrative form the legitimate results of what may be termed the excitement system in Sabbath-schools."

Eighty-Five Cent Books—Continued

THE TAME TURTLE; or, Geordie McGregor's Trouble. By Lucy Ellen Guernsey, author of "Opposite Neighbors," "Ethel's Trials," "On the Mountain," &c. 16mo.

"Teaching a much-needed lesson—toleration by elders, for the amusements, occupations, and opinions of the young. When we are growing old and our 'house is left unto us desolate,' by the absence, marriage, or death of our children, how gladly would we hear again the romps and other noisy interruptions which perchance once called forth our impatient reproofs! The house is quiet enough now! Parents, let the children enjoy their youth now, that you may enjoy your age hereafter in pleasing retrospection that you 'offended' not 'one of these little ones!'"

Ninety Cents Each.

ALICE FENTON; or, Alone in the World. By Clara F. Guernsey. 16mo.

"An attractive book by the popular author of the 'Silver Cup.' It is designed to counteract the tendency of some young persons to substitute a sickly sentiment for practical Christianity."

BEN BOLAND'S GARDEN; or, Home Life. 16mo.

"A story that will be found deeply interesting to the more intelligent classes of juvenile and other readers. The writer has shown how the rich and poor may meet together with delight and profit to both, when influenced by the power of Christian love."

CHERRY, THE MISSIONARY; or, The Church in the Wilderness. 16mo.

"A touching story of a child, who, with her adopted parents, left New York for California in search of her father; she finds her father, who had long and vainly sought her, and continues to the end of her life a missionary of the cross."

FAITHFUL, BUT NOT FAMOUS. An Historical Tale. By the author of "Soldier Fritz," "Maggie's Message," &c. 16mo.

"Intended as an illustration of the struggles of Protestantism in France; a chapter of history too much neglected by old and young readers."

FORGIVENESS; or, The Story of Margaret Lisle. 16mo.

"Illustrating the reward of principle and the triumph of truth."

"A story illustrating the duty of forgiveness. It is written in a clear, simple style, and will interest young readers, while impressing its important lesson upon their hearts."

GRANDMA MERRITT'S STORIES. 16mo.

"A series of stories told by grandma, from her own memory, to her young friends—'The Lost Irish Boy,' 'The Indian Adventure,' 'The Bitter Spirit,' 'Tom, the Runaway,' 'Smiling Temptation,' and 'Sunshine in the Woodbine Arbor.'"

Ninety Cent Books—Continued.

HELEN ARNOLD; or, The District School. 16mo.

"'Sweet are the uses of adversity,' remarks an author who never had a chance, in consequence of his premature decease, of writing for 'The Union;' but Helen Arnold proves, as others are daily proving, the truth of his philosophy."

HELME LODGE; or, The Object of Life. 16mo.

"This is a beautifully-written, touching and impressive story, eminently evangelical in its sentiments, and overflowing with the unction of a spiritual and earnest piety."

JESSIE'S WORK; or, Faithfulness in Little Things. A Story for Girls. By Mary E. Shapley, author of "The Northcroft Lilies," "Little Molly," &c. 16mo.

"It is of great importance to prove to young people that it is their duty to do good, but it is equally necessary to show them how to do it. This is the object of this book, and the author has succeeded."

MISSIONARY ANECDOTES—The Isles of the Pacific, India and Burmah, China, North Africa, and Turkey; South Africa and Madagascar; North America and the West Indies. With twelve illustrations. 16mo.

NELLY; or, The Best Inheritance. By the author of "Irish Amy." 16mo.

"It is a delightful tale, which no girl can read without advantage."

ON THE MOUNTAIN; or, Lost and Found. By the author of "Irish Amy." 16mo.

"The story of Fanny Lilly's summer, spent at her grandmother's home in the country, and the change that was wrought in a wilful and deceitful girl, by patient and judicious training. Little Annie Mercer's adventures on the mountain is thrillingly told, and is deeply interesting."

SWEPT AND GARNISHED; or, Fruits Meet for Repentance. 16mo.

"This is a graphic representation of Swiss country life."

THE BROKEN REIN. 16mo.

"Exhibits the fearful penalty of carelessness in the discharge of duty."

THE FAIRCHILDS; or, Do What You Can. By Lucy Ellen Guernsey. 16mo.

"The author of 'Irish Amy' introduces her readers in this book to the 'Fairchild Family,' in whose joys and sorrows, hopes and disappointments, they will become deeply interested."

THE LIGHT OF THE FORGE; or, Counsels Drawn from the Sick Bed of E. M. 16mo.

"E. M. was the eldest daughter of the parish blacksmith, and the grace of God was magnified in her faith and love and usefulness. The book contains precious lessons for the young Christian."

THE LITTLE HOUSE IN THE HOLLOW. By the author of "Shenac's Work at Home." 16mo.

"The power of the Holy Scriptures in the conversion of little children is strikingly portrayed in this book."

THE ORPHANS OF GLEN ELDER. 16mo.

"This is a charming volume, and worthy a place in any Sunday-school library or home where children are."

Ninety Cent Books—Continued.

THE SUNBEAM STORIES. 16mo.

"Ten stories especially written for Sunday-schools, but so simple and genial is the instruction that they contain, that every one will be delighted to read them."

THE WORKING BOY'S SUNDAY IMPROVED. 16mo.

WAITING FOR THE MORNING. 16mo.

"This is a story of labor and love, and quiet resignation, waiting for the morning which at last came, bringing with it that joy and peace that 'fadeth not away.'"

YOUNG EAGLE; or, Forest Fortunes. 16mo.

"A descriptive story of pioneer and Indian life."

ODD MOMENTS OF THE WILLOUGHBY BOYS. 228 pp. Teaching how to invest profitably the "odd moments" of life.

THE MISSION-BOX; or, Doing Good and Getting Good. "A Golden-Text Story." By Lucy Ellen Guernsey. 16mo, cloth.

One Dollar Each.

ANTS AND THEIR WORKS, and What the Boys of Brentwood Learned of Them. 16mo.

"One of the most valuable contributions to natural history, for the general reader, that has ever appeared."

CHLOE LANKTON; or, Light Beyond the Clouds. A Story of Real Life. 16mo.

CHRISTMAS WITH THE GIRLS. 16mo.

"Any one that has read 'Christmas with the Boys' will want to read this attractive book."

DOROTHY'S LADDER. By the author of "Burden Bearing: A Story about Jenny Ellis." 16mo.

"What the steps of 'Dorothy's Ladder' are we shall not tell; but we may say that they are such as little feet can climb, by the aid of that strength which is never denied to those who seek it."

HOME IN HUMBLE LIFE. 16mo.

"Proving that piety, industry and sobriety are the best capital on which any man can start in the business by which he is to earn his daily bread."

MABEL; or, The Bitter Root. A Tale of the Times of James the First. 16mo.

"Another story of the 'Staunton Corbet Series,' powerfully written, and showing what serious consequences may result from fostering the bitter root of envy. A story illustrative of the times of James the First of England."

NELLIE WEST FROM TEN TO TWENTY. By the author of "Gertrude Terry," "The Whole Armor," &c. 16mo.

"One of the latest of the American Sunday-School Union's excellent story-books for girls. It is in the form of a diary, and is a very natural, easy account of the developments of a young girl's character, and its growth in religion through a life-period of trial."—Evening Bulletin.

RUBY ADAMS; or, A Vocation Wanted. 16mo.

"Ruby Adams and her home life will interest larger girls, and inculcate the lesson that faithful, earnest working in the path of duty will bring contentment and happiness."

One Dollar Books—Continued.

SANDY CAMERON; or, The Way One Looks at It. By the author of "Ruth Allerton," "Christmas with the Boys," "Barley Loaves," Half a Dozen Boys," "Half a Dozen Girls," &c. 16mo.

"A good book by one of our best writers. It is indeed 'the way one looks at it' which influences so largely the misery or happiness of life."

THE BOOK OF ONE HUNDRED AND NINETY STORIES AND PIECES. Compiled by the author of "Martha's Gift," &c. With 12 full page illustrations. 16mo.

"Here is variety for the little people! Much pains have been taken to make the collection not only 'good,' but lively and interesting."

THE CATACOMBS OF ROME. 16mo.

"Giving the most important and interesting facts touching the subterranean cemeteries of the ancient city of Rome, very fully illustrated."

THE MINISTER'S WIFE; or, Life in a Country Parish. By Mrs. A. K. Dunning, author of "Ralph Waring's Money," &c. 16mo.

"An unaffected story, describing the life of a minister's wife, from the time when she was 'changed from Mary Grey, a well-meaning girl, who was very prone to make mistakes, into Mrs. Darcy, a minister's wife.'"

"A natural, affecting, and instructive story."—The Methodist.

KINDLING-WOOD JIMMY. 16mo, cloth.

"This book is likely to be a great favourite with boys, showing what can be accomplished in a humble station by honesty, industry, and a heart ruled by the fear of God and love of man."

TALKS WITH BOYS AND GIRLS; or, Wisdom Better than Gold. By a Layman. 12mo.

"Containing addresses delivered to large congregations of young people, admirably adapted to be read aloud to Sunday-schools and in the home-circle."

THE RANDOLPH CHILDREN. With illustrations. 16mo.

"A story teaching that our heavenly Father has a special work for each of us to do. Our young friends cannot fail to be interested in reading of the childhood of the orphans; their joys and sorrows, and the efforts made by them to obey their mother's last injunction, 'to find out what you were made for,' and 'to grow more like the dear Saviour.'"

THE SILVER RIFLE. A Story of the Saranac Lakes. By C. F. Guernsey. 16mo.

"This story, which will prove deeply interesting to boys, shows that covetousness leads to theft, and that sin, in old or young, brings the sure wages of pain and shame when it is finished."

THE VOYAGE OF THE WHITE FALCON. 16mo.

"One of the most grateful Sunday-school stories we have read for some time—suitable for the Sunday-school and agreeable in the family."

THE WORD OF LIFE. Held forth to counsel Parents, guide Children, help the Christian, &c. 16mo.

One Dollar Books—Continued.

WHAT CHANGED GUY DENNIS; or, Life at School and at Home. 16mo.
"A book for larger boys, telling of the home and school life of Guy Dennis."

WHO WON THE PRIZE? or, Helen Tracy. 16mo.
"Teaching an important lesson—that the spirit of competition should always be regulated by the spirit of love."

TWO HUNDRED YEARS AGO; or, Life in New Sweden. By the author of "Over the Hedge," "Rose Elliott's Wish," &c., &c. 16mo.
"A history of the Swedish settlement on the Delaware, ending with Penn's proprietorship."

LOSS AND GAIN; or, Great Fortunes. By Mrs. A. K. Dunning, author of "The Minister's Wife," "Ralph Waring's Money," &c. 16mo.

THE FATAL INHERITANCE.

DR. RENWICK'S MEDICINES.

THE SCHOONER ON THE BEACH. By the Rev. E. A. Rand.
"Full of adventure and incident on sea and land of a healthy and noble moral tone."

RECORDS OF THE DO-WITHOUT SOCIETY. By Emily Hartley, author of "Phil Derry," "Barley Loaves," &c.

THE FLOWER MISSION, and What Grew out of it. 16mo, cloth.

BEGINNING LIFE. By a Layman. Author of "Talks with Boys and Girls; or, Wisdom Better than Gold," &c. Illustrated by four full-page cuts of "The Journey of Life," drawn and engraved especially for this book. 12mo, cloth, 251 pp.

One Dollar and Ten Cents Each.

A HAPPY WORLD; or, Good, Better, Best. 16mo.

BRUEY: a Little Worker for Christ. 16mo.
"Lovely exceedingly is the character of this dear little girl, and so graphically is the portrait drawn that we feel as if we had lost a sweet friend and pet when she is called up higher."

CHILD-LIFE IN EGYPT. 16mo.
"Teachers will find this volume full of suggestions and encouragement to aid them in their work and labor of love."

DEL DUNSTAN'S CHILDHOOD. By the author of "Waiting for the Morning," "Ruby Adams," &c., &c. 16mo.
"This story is a remarkably fresh and attractive description of child-life in a rural village."—From Hearth and Home.

DR. KENDALL'S CHILDREN AND THEIR COUSINS. 16mo.
"An interesting and well-written story for girls, teaching that it is not necessary to seek a foreign field to exercise a missionary spirit and be the means of doing much good."

ELEANOR GRAY'S GIRLHOOD. 16mo.
"We can assure our friends that we have provided a 'rich treat' for them in this admirably-written and instructive biography."

GREAT POSSESSIONS. By the author of "Poke and her Sisters." 16mo.
"A graphic gallery of natural portraits—of real men, women, and children.

IRISH AMY; or, The Child on the Street and on the Farm. 16mo.
"This is a most interesting and touching narrative."

One Dollar and Ten Cent Books—Cont'd.

IT ISN'T RIGHT; or, Frank Johnson's Reasons. 16mo.
"A good book for the older boys, showing the benefit of never swerving from the right."

JENNY AND THE INSECTS. 16mo.
"Interesting and accurate description of insects and their habits."

POKE AND HER SISTERS; or, A Peep at the Clyde Family. 16mo.
"A picture of domestic life, showing that true pleasure and happiness are to be found in the path of duty, though it involve self-denial rather than admit of the frivolities of gayety and fashion. A book for the larger girls."

RAGGED HOMES AND HOW TO MEND THEM. 16mo.

RUTH ALLERTON, THE MISSIONARY'S DAUGHTER. 16mo.
"A well-written and interesting story of the life of a missionary's daughter whose early days were spent in Africa, and who at the age of nine years was brought to this country by her father and placed under the care of a loving aunt; the story of her home and school life, with her trials and temptations, is admirably told."

THE SILVER CUP. By Clara F. Guernsey. 16mo.
"An impressive narrative, inculcating most important principles, and calculated to interest all classes of readers."

THE STORY OF A DIAMOND: Illustrative of Egyptian Manners and Customs. 16mo.
"In the form of a tale, she brings before us the various classes of Egyptian society—Copts, Musselmans, Syrians and Europeans. To young people it must have a peculiar interest."

THE WORKINGMAN AND HIS FRIENDS; or, The Story of Archie Tyndal and James Collins. 16mo.

THERESA'S JOURNAL. A charming story, translated from the French of Madame E. De Pressense. 16mo.
"It is a simple, unaffected, charming story of a young French orphan girl, who, after the death of her mother, lived with two maiden aunts, one of whom was quick, sharp tempered and demonstrative; the other meek and retiring. Theresa, the orphan girl, tells her story in the form of a journal, commencing at her fifteenth birthday, and continued from day to day."

TRIALS AND TRIUMPHS. 16mo.

TRUTH AND GRACE; or, The Works of Mary Jane Graham. With a Memoir and Portrait. 16mo.

WASHINGTON, GEORGE, THE LIFE OF. 16mo.
"An original work designed to present the character of Washington in its religious aspects."

THE DAUGHTER AT HOME; or, The History of Helen Maurice. 16mo.

WINSIDE FARM; or, The Spensers. How a single family quietly revolutionized a whole neighborhood. 16mo.

One Dollar and Twenty-five Cents Each.

AFTERWARDS; or, Janet's True Friend. A book for the larger scholars. 16mo.

BARLEY LOAVES. By the author of "Ruth Allerton," "Christmas with the Boys," "Sandy Cameron," "Half a Dozen Boys," "Half a Dozen Girls," "A Package of Seeds, &c. 16mo.

"'Barley Loaves' is by the daughter of an eminent American writer, who filled a large space in the literary history of his day. All of this lady's books may be recommended for their excellent design, and for the sprightliness of their tone."

CHILDREN'S VICTORIES; or, Ossie and Maria. 16mo.

"This is the story of two children—twin brother and sister—who lost their mother quite early, and lived with a stepmother who was amiable but indolent, and took but little interest in their welfare. The children were warmly attached to each other, and their trials and struggles form the subject of this narrative, which is related in a style to interest young persons and do good."

DANIEL TRACEY'S STORE IN COVINGTON. 16mo.

"It is a story of the conquering effects of the Gospel over a perverse, hard nature, where ill weeds had been suffered to grow without check."

"An interesting and wholesome story of village life."

ELMIRA'S AMBITIONS; or, Miss Ross and her Career. By Clara F. Guernsey. 373 pp. 16mo.

"It is not often that books of the order to which this book belongs are as bright and interesting as that under notice."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

ETHEL'S TRIALS IN BECOMING A MISSIONARY. By Lucy Ellen Guernsey. 16mo.

"This book is dedicated to the 'larger girls' in our Sunday-schools and Bible-classes, and especially to those who have taken upon themselves the name and vows of the Christian disciple."

ISA GREAME'S WORLD. 16mo.

"A true story, a beautiful story, and a useful story; so says the New York Observer."

JESSIE BURTON; or, Danger in Delay. 16mo.

"This book presents a vivid illustration of the punishment which often attends the fault of procrastination."

NATURE'S SCHOOL; or, Lessons from the Garden and the Field. 16mo.

OPPOSITE NEIGHBORS; or, Two Lives and their End. 16mo.

"The advent of a really good work always gives us pleasure. We can commend the above as one of the best of its class. It points its moral with earnestness and fidelity."

OUT OF THE ORPHAN ASYLUM; or Sketches in a Country Parish. 16mo.

"This work is simply but expressively and forcibly written. It abounds with incident, a number of the conversations are surprisingly good, and the characters are clearly and cleverly delineated. The whole tone of the work is excellent."

One Dollar and Twenty-Five Cent Books—Continued.

PHIL DERRY, THE WESTERN BOY WHO BECAME A SUNDAY-SCHOOL MISSIONARY. 16mo.

"The story of Phil Derry is full of interest, showing how God had cared for him, and how we can all do good in our homes and to those that are around us. Phil, after much suffering and many trials, becomes that which he had long desired to be, a Sunday-school missionary, and we love to follow him in his work for Christ."

RALPH WARING'S MONEY. By Mrs. A. K. Dunning, author of "The Minister's Wife," &c. 16mo.

"A book of sterling merit, in which the choice is deliberately made by the chief subject, of the worst master, 'mammon,' instead of God. If ever any country needed a warning against the danger of the 'race for riches,' it is this country—as well as others."

RHODA'S EDUCATION; or, Too Much of a Good Thing. By Lucy Ellen Guernsey, author of "Irish Amy," "Comfort Allison," "The Tattler," "Twin Roses," &c. 16mo.

"An admirable exposition, by one of the best juvenile writers now living, of the dreadful effects of 'cramming.' If any human influence can open the minds and penetrate the hearts of parents and teachers, and induce them to mitigate the 'educational' tortures to which children are subjected, this capital book should effect this result."

SELECT STORIES TO PLEASE AND TO PROFIT. 16mo.

"A volume very carefully prepared, and containing some of the choicest stories for the young which are found in our language."

SHENAC'S WORK AT HOME. A Tale of Canadian Life. 16mo.

"One of the most interesting and touching stories, for old and young, that has been published for a long time."

STORY OF A CHINESE BOY IN CALIFORNIA. 16mo.

"A true story; the scenes in San Francisco, and the incidents remarkable and interesting in the life of a Chinese lad, rescued from the wicked life of his gambling countrymen, and trained for the Christian ministry."

THE OLD FLAG. 368 pages, 16mo. Beautifully illustrated.

"We know of no other volume prepared for the young which so clearly sets forth the foundations on which our Government rests, and upon which the noble fabric of the Republic has been reared."

THE CITY ARAB. 366 pages, 16mo.

"It breathes wholesome lessons of integrity and self-reliance."

"The story is very well told, with great truthfulness to human experience, and in fact the materials of it are said to have been drawn from real life. It illustrates the conservative and sanctifying power of the Gospel in a striking manner."

THE TATTLER; or, The History of Patty Steele. By the author of "Irish Amy," &c. 16mo.

"The evil against which it warns prevails everywhere. A book which can teach youth a wise use of the tongue is an unmixed blessing. The getting up of this volume is very attractive."

One Dollar and Twenty-Five Cent Books—Continued.

THE TROUBLESOME SECRET, AND WHAT IT COST. 16mo.

"A good book to give a school-girl, to show her the evil and the agony which sometimes result from one wrong step, if it is not at once retraced and repented of."

THE TWIN ROSES, AND HOW THEY WERE TRAINED. 16mo.

"A finely-written book, presenting a well-drawn contrast between a wise and an unwise training of children; and containing elements of intense interest to older as well as younger readers."

THE WAY MADE PLAIN. By the Rev. James H. Brooks, D.D., author of "How to be Saved," &c. 16mo.

"In the preface the author says: 'Those who carefully read the first thirteen verses of the tenth chapter of Romans, cannot fail to perceive the logical order and marvellous clearness with which the Holy Ghost there sets forth the Way of Life. It is the aim of this little book to follow that order, and in some feeble measure to reflect that clearness. Hence the Scriptures are closely followed at every step of the argument, because they alone can guide our feet in the paths of peace."

WASHINGTON AND '76. By Lucy Ellen and Clara F. Guernsey. 16mo. Profusely illustrated.

"A very graphic and interesting work; giving a personal idea of Washington rather than a mere history of the war."

THE SHAWNEE PRISONER. A Borderer's Story. By Clara F. Guernsey, author of "Dr. Leighton's Children," "Boys of Eaglewood," &c., &c. 16mo.

"A very attractive book for children, containing accounts of Indian manners and customs."

THY POOR BROTHER. By Mrs. Sewell, author of those popular ballads, "Mother's Last Words," "Our Father's Care." 16mo.

SIBYL AND THE SAPPHIRES; or, Trading in Vanity Fair. By Clara F. Guernsey, author of "The Silver Cup," "Boys of Eaglewood," "The Mallory Girls," &c., &c. 16mo, cloth.

LAURA'S ASPIRATIONS; or, the Next Thing. By E. B. Hollis, author of "Adventures of a Day," &c., &c. 16mo, cloth.

Teaching that "doing well the duties which lie nearest to us is the key to a useful life."

One Dollar and Fifty Cents Each.

BOYS OF EAGLEWOOD; or, Life at School. By Clara F. Guernsey. 16mo.

"A delightful book for larger boys, giving a history of the school-life at Dr. Meadow's very pleasant academy at Eaglewood."

GRANDMOTHER BROWN'S SCHOOL-DAYS; or, Education as it was Seventy Years Since. By Lucy Ellen Guernsey. 16mo, illustrated.

OUR ONLY BROTHER. 16mo.

"The history of a family of orphan children, showing the good wrought by the influence of a kind and patient elder sister."

One Dollar and Fifty Cent Books—Continued.

SCRUB HOLLOW SUNDAY-SCHOOL. How it was started. 16mo.

"An excellent guide in starting and sustaining Sunday-schools, and happily combining amusement and profit."

THE HEIRESS OF McGREGOR; or, Living for Self. By Lucy Ellen Guernsey, author of "Irish Amy," &c. 16mo.

"A highly-interesting and instructive book, containing varied scenes, incidents, and diversities of character. We were especially interested in 'Marion,' the heiress, who thought every one 'misunderstood her,' but who finally entered upon a career of active usefulness in a proper spirit."

THE MALLORY GIRLS; or, The Wrong and the Right Way. By Clara F. Guernsey. 16mo, illustrated.

"A striking contrast between worth, goodness, and refinement and that worldliness now so common in every-day life, and showing, in a very clear and forcible manner, 'that the only safe ground against love of the world is love of the Father.'"

THREE GIRLS OF THE REVOLUTION. By the author of "The Randolph Children." 16mo.

"Giving a vivid and interesting sketch of the early Revolutionary War in New Jersey, as illustrated in the lives of three girls of that period, 'Dorcas, Polly, and Keren-happuch.'"

WILD AND TAME. A sly peep at four-footed animals, where they live and what they do. 16mo.

AN ALPHABETICAL INDEX TO THE NEW TESTAMENT. Common version, suitable to any edition, and useful to Ministers, Teachers and Bible Readers. 15 cents, 20 cents and 25 cents.

"We have received from the American Sunday-School Union a copy of 'An Alphabetical Index to the New Testament,' prepared by S. A. A., who, we infer, is Dr. S. Austin Allibone. The well-deserved reputation of this gentleman is a sufficient guaranty that the work of indexing the New Testament has been thoroughly performed. While phraseological fullness has been preferred to verbal minuteness, the compilation is well calculated to render the teachings of the New Testament at once accessible to the inquirer."

CHRISTIE; or. The Way Home. 2 volumes, $2 50; 2 volumes bound in one, $2 25. 16mo.

"This book will be made welcome in very many families, and wherever it goes it must do good."

THE HISTORICAL FOUNDATIONS OF CHRISTIANITY. By a Layman. 16mo. 40 cents.

"He who can doubt the divine origin of Christianity, after reading this little book, must be a very credulous person—much more so than he who is forced by logic, facts, and history to accept Christianity."

TEACHERS' MAPS.

THE NEW MAP OF PALESTINE.

Among the distinguished features of the map may be mentioned:

1. The accuracy, the distinct lettering, and the unsurpassed coloring.

2. The surface of the country represented on the map (two hundred miles square) is very conspicuously divided into sections of fifty miles each, and again subdivided into squares of ten miles each.

3. Besides the usual degrees of latitude and longitude, the distance of each place east and south of London is so marked that the student with a single glance of the eye can determine it.

In order to make the square complete, the northern portion, comprehending the mountains of Lebanon, is detached and represented by itself.

With access to this Map, there can be no apology for ignorance respecting the relative distances of places mentioned in the Bible.

THE SABBATH-SCHOOL HOSANNA. A choice collection of over 200 tunes, making a complete Sunday-school music book; also designed to accompany the AMERICAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL HYMN-BOOK, WITH A TUNE FOR EVERY HYMN IN THE BOOK. Single copies, paper covers, 30 cents; 100 copies, $25 00. Single copies, bound, 35 cents; 100 copies, . 30 00

The New Music Book, just Published.

CALVARY SONGS, A NEW HYMN AND TUNE-BOOK, for the Family and the Sunday-school. Prepared by Rev. Charles S. Robinson, D.D., and Theodore E. Perkins, and published by the American Sunday-School Union. Copyright by American Sunday-School Union, 1875.

Sunday-school workers have for several years felt the importance of having a new Singing-Book, which would contain so large a numbers of the most valuable Hymns and Tunes for Sunday-schools, that there would be no necessity for changing books every year. Among the advantages of such a work are: (1) large saving of expense; (2) greater familiarity with the words and tunes; (3) increased interest in this part of the service; (4) a more devout spirit of praise and worship in the Sunday-school.

The American Sunday-School Union has therefore availed itself of the services of two gentlemen of acknowledged ability and experience to prepare this collection of hymns and music. Dr. Robinson is widely known as the compiler of "Songs for the Sanctuary," one of the most popular books for church service ever issued, and as one of the most faithful workers in behalf of the Sunday-school cause over the whole country. Mr. Theodore E. Perkins, his worthy associate, is known by his "Songs of Salvation," and "Songs of To-Day," wherever good music is seen or sung.

PLAN OF PREPARATION.

The purpose has been this—to secure as many of the familiar and popular pieces of all the best authors as was consistent with a fair number of fresh tunes and hymns of real worth—the old and the new together. Among those well-known may be mentioned the following:

Jesus of Nazareth—A Starless Crown, . T. E. PERKINS.
Hold the Fort—Jesus Loves Even Me, . P. P. BLISS.
Ninety and Nine—Yet There is Room, . I. D. SANKEY.
I Need Thee—Shout for Joy, . . W. F. SHERWIN.
How Can I Keep from Singing—Only One Way to the Cross, ... S. J. VAIL.
What a Friend we have in Jesus—Just Across the River, ... KARL REDEN.
The Valley of Blessing—I am Trusting, Lord, ... W. G. FISCHER.
Jesus Saves Me Now—The Gates Ajar, . GEO. S. WEEKS.
The Heavenly Visitor—The Penitent, . . A. HULL.
The Cross! The Wondrous Cross! REV. J. H. STOCKTON.
Pass Me Not, ... J. W. SUFFERN.
The Man of Sorrows, . . . REV. Dr. PIERSON.
Let the Saviour In—Blessed is He that Cometh, ... H. MILLARD.
It is Better Farther on—Resting in Jesus, W. W. BENTLEY.
Jesus by the Sea—Oh! We are Volunteers, G. F. ROOT.
I am Coming, Lord, . . . REV. L. HARTSOUGH.
Jesus Loves—Nearer the Cross, . MRS. J. F. KNAPP.
Safe Within the Vail—Over the River, . J. M. EVANS.
The Other Side—While the Days are Going by, ... J. E. GOULD.
Wheat and Tares—Over the Sea, . REV. H. KINGSBURY.

Very many new and old pieces by the same and other authors are to be added to these in its enumeration, for the book consists of 168 pages, including indexes of subjects and first lines. Indeed, it will be found to contain nearly all the popular music sung by such welcome workers in revival meetings as Mr. Sankey, Mr. Weeks, and Mr. Bliss.

SIZE, FORM AND PRICE.

This new book is of the ordinary square shape. The type is fresh, large and clear; the paper fine, the cover beautifully engraved. Although larger than those in the market, it will be offered on the same general terms, viz: 35 cents per copy; $30 00 per 100 copies.

CALVARY SONGS.

BY C. S. ROBINSON AND T. E. PERKINS.

"A book of 168 pages, printed and bound in good style. The music is fresh and good; and there is a better collection than usual of favorite hymns without the music. One peculiarity, which we never saw in any other book, and which is a decided advantage, is that the first line of each hymn is set to music in some familiar tune. This is a great relief to the unprofessional, as how to start the tune is a great trouble with many of us."—Western Recorder, Louisville, Ky., Aug. 3, 1876.

"The American Sunday-School Union has done the Sabbath-school interest a good service in securing the compilation of this admirable collection. It is prepared by two master workmen, and is adapted to meet the wants of schools in every part of the land. It contains nearly all the popular music sung now in revival meetings, together with such an admixture of new hymns and tunes as the cultivated taste of its compilers has approved. It is adapted for permanent use, and we trust will have a share in arresting the tendency to frequent change in Sunday-school music, which has been so great a nuisance and worry hitherto. We wish the new candidate a wide career of usefulness."—New York Evangelist.

"The American Sunday-School Union have issued an admirable collection of spiritual songs adapted for use in Sunday and public schools, and also for social and revival meetings. It is entitled Calvary Songs, and has been conjointly prepared by Rev. C. S. Robinson, D.D., and Theodore E. Perkins. The music is of a high order, and the hymns are at once poetical and devotional."—Christian Intelligencer.

"This new collection of hymns and tunes has evidently been made with scrupulous care, and with an eye to meeting the wants of Sunday-schools and families. New songs and old favorites are wisely brought together, and, in some instances, familiar tunes have been given fresh words, to the gain of the singers."—St. Nicholas Magazine.

Great Economy in Sunday-School Libraries.—Books that will Wear.

THE RED-BACK LIBRARIES,

Published by the AMERICAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL UNION, Philadelphia.

A limited number of the carefully-selected, interesting, and instructive volumes issued by the Society have been arranged in libraries, and will be sold to Sunday-schools at remarkably LOW PRICES. These books are strongly and uniformly bound with RED MOROCCO BACKS, gilt letters, and fancy marbled-paper sides. They are 18mo in size, and illustrated with engravings. Each library is put up in a neat wooden case. Some of the books in the Red-Back Libraries are included in other libraries, but in a different style of binding.

RED-BACK LIBRARY, No. 1. Containing 75 books, with illustrations, suitable for the larger scholars. Price reduced from $47 45 to $24 50 net to Sunday-schools.

RED-BACK LIBRARY, No. 2. Containing 100 books (not in No. 1), with illustrations, suited to the intermediate scholars. Price reduced from $41 45 to $21 50 net to Sunday-schools.

RED-BACK LIBRARY, No. 3. Containing 100 books (not in Nos. 1 and 2), with illustrations, suited to the younger scholars. Price reduced from $25 00 to $13 00 net to Sunday-schools.

RED-BACK LIBRARY, No. 4. Containing 65 books (not in Nos. 1, 2, and 3), with illustrations. Price reduced from $24 00 to $12 50 net to Sunday-schools.

Fifty Catalogues furnished with each Library.

THE BLUE-BACK LIBRARIES,

Published by THE AMERICAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL UNION, Philadelphia, Nos. 8 and 10 Bible House, New York, and No. 73 Randolph street, Chicago, at greatly reduced prices.

A number of the carefully-selected publications of the Society have been arranged in Libraries, and will be sold to Sunday-schools at greatly reduced prices. These books are strongly and uniformly bound, with dark BLUE MOROCCO BACKS, gilt letters, and marbled-paper sides—a style of binding very popular a few years ago, and that will wear much longer than the cloth binding now in use. These books are 18mo in size, and illustrated with engravings. Each library is put up in a neat wooden case. The volumes are not numbered and can be added to existing libraries, and will be found especially adapted to mission schools that cannot afford the more expensively-bound books.

BLUE-BACK LIBRARY, No. M, contains 45 books. Price reduced from $24 25 to $10 net to Sunday-schools.

BLUE-BACK LIBRARY, No. N, contains 50 books. Price reduced from $20 21 to $8 net to Sunday-schools.

aided by writers and workers of five different denominations, making the HAND-BOOK even BETTER THAN EVER

AS A

PLAIN PORTABLE POPULAR COMMENTARY

for Scholars and Teachers who wish to have the results of study in a compact form.

NEW SERIES.

VOL. I.—JANUARY TO JULY.

STUDIES IN LUKE.

VOL. II.—JULY TO DECEMBER.

STUDIES IN THE PENTATEUCH.

Bound in Boards, in two parts. Price of each, 10 cents; 100 copies, $8.00.
Two parts (the whole year's lessons) in one volume. Price, 20 cents; 100 copies, $15.00.

Among the points in which scholars and teachers will find this HAND-BOOK superior to all other lesson helps are:

I. IT IS COMPACT AND COMPREHENSIVE.

It contains, in addition to the text of the Lessons in full,

Maps,
Golden Texts,
Central Truths,
Bible Helps, Daily Readings,
Notes, Geographical, Biographical, and Critical,
Explanations and Questions,
Practical Teachings,
Illustrative Anecdotes,
Blackboard Outlines,
Opening and Closing Exercises,
Carefully-prepared Reviews.

TESTIMONY.—"Mr. Rice has succeeded in putting an immense amount of information and suggestion into a very compact but clear and usable shape—a service to our Sunday-schools and to all who search the Scriptures which I am sure they will appreciate and employ."—Prof. C. F. P. Bancroft, Ph. D., Principal Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass.

"It is pointed and clear, terse and concise, and withal a very hand(y) book."—The Sunday-School Worker.

"The author's plan is, we think, the best yet devised for bringing the largest amount of instruction into the most compact space."—The Ocean Grove (Methodist Episcopal).

"Our superintendent says he can by it put two years' hard work in his vest-pocket. I feel an admiration not unmixed with wonder at your packed pages."—Mrs. Amelia E. Barr.

"Mr. Rice's Hand-Books have been among the best helps of their kind for the study of the International Lessons."—The Congregationalist.

"One of the very best helps in the study of the International Lessons."—Evan. S. S. Teacher.

"I value it very highly."—Rev. W. E. Cunnyngham, D. D.

"The best of all hand-books for these lessons, because it is short, pointed, clear, scriptural, and thoroughly adapted to draw out the minds of teachers and pupils, and to explain just what is most needful."—The Christian Intelligencer.

"In schools where the International Lessons are taught, we cannot imagine a greater help to the thorough study of the lesson than this little Hand-Book affords."—The Church Sunday-School Magazine, London, England.

"As compact and complete as it could be made."—The Presbyterian.

II. IT IS PORTABLE AND POPULAR.

1. It is a compactly-bound volume, and can easily be carried in the pocket at all times, ready for pencil-notes of suggestions and illustrations, such as occur to the earnest teacher during the week.

2. The Geographical and Biographical Notes (Bible Dictionary) are put in their natural order, in close connection with the text.

3. At the same time, every part of the book is made available for reference by a complete Index of Persons, Places, Subjects, etc., with the syllabication, accentuation, and pronunciation of all proper names.

TESTIMONY.—"A very convenient book of reference for superintendents and teachers, as well as for the aid of scholars in the preparation of the lessons."—Sunday Morning (Presbyterian).

"It has been prepared with great care and labour. The notes are expository in the true sense, and are of great value to a studious scholar,"—The Presbyterian Standard.

"A question-book of great excellence and worth. The previous numbers have had a deservedly wide circulation, and we predict the same for this, the best of them all."—Michigan Christian Advocate (Methodist Episcopal).

"Admirably arranged. . . . It cannot but prove a great quickener and helper in the study of the lessons."—The Instructor.

NEW MUSIC BOOK FOR SUNDAY-SCHOOLS.

CALVARY SONGS.

A new Hymn and Tune Book for the Family and the Sunday-school,

PREPARED BY

Rev. CHARLES S. ROBINSON, D. D., AND THEODORE E. PERKINS,

AND

Published by the American Sunday-School Union.

35 Cents per Copy. $30.00 per 100 Copies.

The AMERICAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL UNION have for several years felt the importance of having a new book that should contain a large portion of the most valuable hymns and tunes for Sunday-schools, so that there would be no need of changing the books every year, and thus they hope to save a large expense to the schools.

The society have secured the valuable services of two gentlemen of known character and experience to prepare in their behalf this collection of hymns and music. DR. ROBINSON is widely known as the compiler of Songs for the Sanctuary, one of the most popular books for church service ever issued, and as one of the most faithful workers in behalf of the Sunday-school cause over the whole country. MR. THEODORE E. PERKINS, his worthy associate, is known by his Songs of Salvation and Songs of To-day, wherever good music is seen or sung.

WHAT IS SAID OF IT.

"The American Sunday-School Union have just ready a new DICTIONARY OF THE BIBLE, which includes biography, natural history, geography, topography, archæology, and literature, with twelve colored maps and over four hundred illustrations. It is edited by Philip Schaff, D.D., LL.D., of New York, and contains about 1000 pages. The price has been fixed at $2.50, and as it is the cheapest and best book of the kind in the market, there is every reason to suppose its sales will reach an enormous figure."—The Publishers' Weekly.

"The American Sunday-School Union publish A DICTIONARY OF THE BIBLE, edited by Philip Schaff, D.D., a beautiful volume, with twelve colored maps, and over four hundred illustrations. Had we never known of a Bible Dictionary, and wished to secure for ourselves and all other Bible students the best work of the kind, we should have asked Dr. Schaff to undertake the task of providing for our wants. His gifts, acquirements, and habits, are all wonderfully adapted to the successful accomplishment of such an undertaking. This requires not only learning and faith, but such knowledge of readers and students as puts the author in sympathy with their desires and needs. Glancing here and there through these pages, we find everywhere the evidence of this discernment, the information being presented so clearly and concisely that the attention is attracted and the memory not burdened.

"Dr. Schaff, in his Preface, mentions the names of several scholars who have aided him in preparing and perfecting this useful, attractive, admirable work."—New York Observer.

"The great Bible Dictionaries are beyond the reach of many who require a portion of the information they supply.

"Dr. Schaff has given us a DICTIONARY OF THE BIBLE, concise, manageable, intelligible, and trustworthy."—Rev. John Hall, D.D., New York.

"No Bible Dictionary with which we are familiar can equal this in convenience of size and form, accuracy of statement, and freshness of information. In typography and mechanical finish there is none better. For Sunday-school service it stands pre-eminent."—National Baptist.

"We know of no other Bible help which brings so many important things into so small a compass as this; and the whole make up of the book is exceedingly attractive."—The Advance, Chicago.

"This Dictionary supplies a much-needed help to readers and students of the Bible. It contains the results, greatly condensed, of all modern investigation, especially in Bible topography and archæology. The illustrations are not only numerous but excellent. The maps will be found to be accurate and useful. The appendix contains valuable tables."—Episcopal Register, Philadelphia.

"It has been twenty-five years since the last popular Bible Dictionary was published by the American Sunday-School Union. Every one knows what a boon that was to the Bible-reading public, and especially to Sunday-school teachers; but biblical study has advanced so much in the last quarter of a century that there was absolutely demanded a greatly amended work; and we have one here, brought down to the latest time by one of the ripest biblical scholars in the church. The twelve maps in the latter part of the book were engraved expressly for it by noted artists in Scotland. To complete the value of the work there are numerous tables which place in an instant before the eye much that, ordinarily, has to be sought for in scattered places. The miracles, the prophecies, the names of Christ, weights and measures, time, natural history, and other matters important to be understood are conveniently arranged in this form. We predict a large sale for the new Dictionary."—The Presbyterian, Philadelphia.

"The American Sunday-School Union, Philadelphia, has completed a large and praiseworthy undertaking. It is a Dictionary of the Bible, edited by Dr. Philip Schaff. The work contains nearly one thousand pages, twelve colored maps, and over four hundred illustrations. The text treats of the biography, natural history, geography, topography, archæology, and literature of the Bible. The object has been to furnish in reasonable compass a useful companion in the study of the Scriptures. There are probably very few topics, if any, on which the general reader needs information, that are not mentioned in this volume. There are many helps to Bible readers, and all have merits. This one covers the whole ground, and has the advantage of having been prepared with the aid of all previous work of the kind, and, as every page shows, by consultation of a large number of modern critical works that deal with the various subjects of biblical criticism."—The Methodist, New York.

"It has been in my hands only a few days, but already have I read the principal articles it contains. In fact, whenever I took it up it was not easy to lay it down again, so fresh is its style, so vigorous its scholarship, so taking its numerous illustrations, so stimulating every way. I know of no Bible Dictionary which ought to have so wide a circulation. For Bible class preparation it promises help invaluable. It has not been my habit to make large use of such works, but this one I promise myself the pleasure of often consulting."—Rev. Joseph R. Wilson, D.D., Wilmington, N. C.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
WASHINGTON, July 17, 1873.

GENERAL ORDERS No. 6.—The following order, received from the War Department, is published for the information and guidance of the Army:

WAR DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON CITY. July 17, 1873.

The revision of Upton's Infantry Tactics by the author, and the Tactics for Artillery and Cavalry [including the proceedings of the board—Major-General Schofield, President—instituted by General Orders No. 60, Headquarters of the Army, Adjutant-General's Office, series of 1869], assimilated to the Tactics for Infantry, pursuant to instructions from the General of the Army, by—

Lieutenant-Colonel Emory Upton, 1st Artillery, Instructor of Tactics, U. S. Military Academy;

Captain Henry A. Du Pont, 5th Artillery, commanding Battery "F," 5th Artillery;

Captain John E. Tourtellotte, 7th Cavalry, Colonel and Aide-de-Camp to the General;

Captain Alfred E. Bates, 2d Cavalry, Assistant Instructor of Cavalry Tactics, U. S. Military Academy—having been approved by the President, are adopted for the instruction of the Army and Militia of the United States.

To insure uniformity, all exercises, evolutions, and ceremonies not embraced in these Tactics are prohibited, and those therein prescribed will be strictly observed.

WM. W. BELKNAP, Secretary of War.

By command of General Sherman.
WILLIAM D. WHIPPLE Assistant Adjutant-General.

HALLAM'S COMPLETE WORKS,

With new Table of Contents and Indexes. Printed at the University Press, Cambridge, from large type, on laid, tinted paper, in 6 vols., crown 8vo, handsomely bound in extra cloth, put up in a neat box.

PRICE, $7.50 PER SET. (Reduced from $17.50.)

A. C. ARMSTRONG & SON

Have the pleasure of announcing that they have now ready for publication

A NEW UNABRIDGED EDITION OF HALLAM'S WORKS,

COMPRISING

THE CONSTITUTIONAL HISTORY OF ENGLAND, - - 2 Vols.
THE MIDDLE AGES—The State of Europe during the Middle Ages, 2 Vols.
INTRODUCTION TO THE LITERATURE OF EUROPE, - - 2 Vols.

This new issue of HALLAM'S COMPLETE WORKS, reprinted FROM THE LAST LONDON EDITION, REVISED AND CORRECTED BY THE AUTHOR, is the most accurate and reliable edition published.

We cannot better introduce it in this form to the American Public than by the quotation of Macaulay's famous estimate of their author:

"Mr. Hallam is, on the whole, far better qualified than any other writer of our time for the office which he has undertaken. He has great industry and great acuteness. His knowledge is extensive, various, and profound. His mind is equally distinguished by the amplitude of its grasp, and by the delicacy of its tact. His speculations have none of that vagueness which is the common fault of political philosophy. On the contrary, they are strikingly practical, and teach us not only the general rule, but the mode of applying it to solve particular cases. . . . Mr. Hallam's work is eminently judicial. Its whole spirit is that of the Bench, not that of the Bar. He sums up with a calm, steady impartiality, turning neither to the right nor to the left, glossing over nothing, exaggerating nothing, while the advocates on both sides are alternately biting their lips to hear their conflicting misstatements and sophism exposed."

As this "STANDARD EDITION" of HALLAM'S WORKS, in 6 Vols., AVERAGING NEARLY 800 PAGES IN EACH VOL., is sold at the EXCEEDINGLY LOW PRICE OF $7.50 PER SET (formerly published in 10 Vols. at $17.50), the Publishers confidently believe IT WILL HAVE A LARGE AND STEADY SALE.

EARLY ORDERS SOLICITED.

WILL PUBLISH IN AUGUST, THIS NEW ISSUE OF

LAMB'S COMPLETE WORKS,

With a volume of Letters and Essays collected for this edition by the industry of, and arranged with much taste and skill by, J. E. BABSON, Esq., of Boston, "who literally knows Lamb by heart."

In Mr. Babson's preface to this additional volume, he says:

"Other writers may have more readers, but none have so many true, hearty, enthusiastic admirers as he. * * * With all lovers and appreciators of true wit, genuine humor, fine fancy, beautiful imagination and exquisite pathos, he is a prodigious favorite. Indeed, there is something—a nameless, indescribable charm—about this author's productions which captivates and enravishes his readers, and though Lamb found many admiring readers in his lifetime, since his death his fame and popularity have increased greatly. Then he was generally looked upon as a mere eccentric—a person of more quaintness than humor, of more oddity than genius. Now he is acknowledged to be a most beautiful and original genius—one of the 'fixed stars of the literary system'—whose light will never pale or grow dim, and whose peculiar brightness and beauty will long be the wonder and delight of many. * * * For years I have been hopefully and patiently waiting for somebody to collect these scattered and all but forgotten articles of Lamb's. * * * Without doubt, all genuine admirers, all true lovers of the gentle, genial, delightful 'Elia,' to whom almost every word of their favorite author's inditing is 'farsed with pleasaunce,' will be mightily pleased with these productions of his inimitable pen, NOW FIRST COLLECTED TOGETHER."

As this "SUPERB EDITION" of LAMB'S WORKS, in 3 Vols., AVERAGING NEARLY 800 PAGES IN EACH VOLUME, is sold at the EXCEEDINGLY LOW PRICE OF $3.75 PER SET (formerly published in 5 Vols. at $7.50), the Publishers confidently believe IT WILL COMMEND ITSELF TO ALL FOR PERSONAL USE AND FOR LIBRARIES.

EARLY ORDERS SOLICITED.

SUPLÉE'S TRENCH ON WORDS.

By RICHARD CHENEVIX TRENCH, D.D.,

Archbishop of Dublin.

FROM THE LATEST REVISED ENGLISH EDITION. WITH AN EXHAUSTIVE ANALYSIS, ADDITIONAL WORDS FOR ILLUSTRATION, AND QUESTIONS FOR EXAMINATIONS.

By THOMAS D. SUPLÉE,

Head Master of St. Augustine's College.

It is now 26 years since Dean Trench's book "On the Study of Words" was first given to the public. Originally addressed to the pupils of the Diocesan Training School at Winchester, in the shape of lectures, and retaining that form in publication, the book was but poorly adapted for use in the school room, as a text-book. The editor has long deplored this, in common with many other teachers; hence, no apology is needed for the appearance of the present volume. The advantages claimed for it, over all other editions, are as follows:

1. A complete and exhaustive analysis of the revised text has been added.

2. A set of questions has been prepared, designed not only to call forth the facts stated by the author, but also to follow up lines of thought suggested by him.

3. At the end of each lecture a list of words has been added, illustrating its various topics, and intended to encourage original research on the part of the pupil.

The new arrangement of the text, analysis and questions, cannot fail to be of great assistance both to the teacher and pupil. As these helps have already been of great service to the editor in the work of teaching, it is hoped that they may also assist others, now that they are associated with the lectures.

Professor HUNT, of Princeton College, writes: "The book supplies a need which each teacher of Trench has been obliged to heretofore meet in his own way, and serves to add much to the usefulness of a work already full of profit in the study of language."

The National and New England Journal of Education says: "The editor of this volume, in common with other teachers, felt the need of making this work more practical as a text-book for schools, and in the present volume has added greatly to its usefulness. The indexical outline of the lectures is very valuable, on account of its fullness; this feature alone doubles the original value of the work. The blackboard exercises, at the close of each lecture, have been prepared with great care, and will be found extremely practical in the hands of an intelligent teacher. The questions on the chapters will be valuable tests of the pupils' knowledge, and the additional words for illustration are intended to lead to original thought and investigation. The editor shows thorough scholarship, and an enthusiastic love for the study of words, and has performed a work for American teachers and students for which they should be profoundly grateful."

12mo, Cloth, 400 Pages. Net Price, $1.00.

Copies for examination sent, postage paid, on receipt of 75 cents.

Also, JUST READY, an entirely New Edition (from the last English edition, revised) of TRENCH ON THE STUDY OF WORDS, without the Suplée matter, 12mo, 303 pages, cloth. Net price, $1.00. Copies for examination sent post-paid on receipt of 75 cents.

CONINGTON'S ÆNEID.

THE ÆNEID OF VIRGIL

Translated into English Verse (Scott's Ballad Metre).

By JOHN CONINGTON, M.A.,

Late Professor in the University of Oxford.

An elegant edition, in large, clear type, on toned paper. 1 vol., crown 8vo, 506 pages.
Net price, $1 50.

"This version is unique in its metre, that of Scott's ballads being employed, which imparts a wonderful life and vivacity, and will introduce the work to a class of readers by whom it has been heretofore overlooked. The London Examiner characterizes it as 'the very lightest, freshest, and yet most accurate metrical translation of Virgil that has been added to our literature'; the Athenæum says that 'besides being a faithful copy of the original, it has all the freshness, life, and beauty of genuine poetry'; the Saturday Review, 'that among the many good translations, there has been none more true to the spirit and letter of the original author than this'; and the Westminster Review styles it 'eminently graceful and scholarlike.'

"After such commendations from such sources, little more need be said. The mechanical execution is very rich and attractive, and reflects credit on the house that publishes it."—New York Evening Post.

NOTICE.

Syracuse, N. Y., August 12, 1880.

The firm of DAVIS, BARDEEN & CO., Booksellers and Publishers, is this day dissolved, by mutual consent. The School Bulletin Publications will be hereafter owned and published by C. W. BARDEEN, who has leased a floor in the Whitlock Building, 37 and 39 Clinton Street, near the New York Central Railroad Depot, to which building will also be removed the SCHOOL BULLETIN PRINTING OFFICE.

The DISCOUNT to Dealers will hereafter be One-Third, with an additional Ten Per Cent. upon single orders or monthly bills amounting to Fifty Dollars. As these terms are absolutely invariable, Dealers unknown to me, or sending small orders, will please remit with the order. All settlements monthly.

I respectfully solicit a continuance of the liberal patronage with which the School Bulletin Publications have been favored.

C. W. BARDEEN.

ALDEN'S POLITICAL ECONOMY.—First Principles of Political Economy, By Joseph Alden, D. D., LL. D., Principal of the State Normal School at Albany, N. Y., and author of "Science of Government," etc., etc. 153 pages. 16mo., bevelled cloth. 75 cents.

Valuable, not only with regard to its subject-matter, but for the way it teaches students how to deal with all subjects of that nature.—Ex-Governor Horatio Seymour. It teaches young men and young women to reason in politics, and that is one of the principal things wanted in this country. It is clear, well arranged, and the best treatise for the purpose I have ever seen.—Andrew D. White, LL. D., Minister to Germany. No one but a political partisan, or a demagogue, can find fault with any of Mr. Alden's statements, while the clearness with which every subject is expressed, and the precision and correctness of the illustrations with which he makes his meaning plain, are worthy of the highest praise.—New York Herald. It is the best introduction to political economy for beginners in primary schools that we have seen, and its universal adoption as a part of the cause of elementary study could not fail to result in ultimate wide-spread benefit.—Popular Science Monthly. The best attempt we have yet seen to put Political Economy into a form suitable for use in schools.—Educational News, Scotland.

BARDEEN'S COMMON SCHOOL LAW.—Common School Law, a digest of the provisions of Statute and Common Law as to the relations of the Teacher to the pupil, the parent, and the district, with four hundred references to legal decisions in twenty-one different States; to which are added fourteen hundred questions given at the first seven New York examinations for State Certificates. By C. W. Bardeen, editor of THE SCHOOL BULLETIN. Fourth edition entirely re-written. 203 pages, 16mo., bevelled cloth, 50 cents.

President White, of Cornell, says: "Not only every teacher in the State, but every member of the Legislature, and every Supervisor and School-Commissioner should have one." Barnes' Educational Monthly remarks: "This unpretending volume contains more matter than many of four times its size. It should be in the hands of every teacher in the United States." The London Schoolmaster, (England), says: "It would seem that a similar work, treating of the legal rights, duties, and status of English schoolmasters, is much needed."

BARDEEN'S RODERICK HUME.—Roderick Hume, the Story of a New York Teacher. By C. W. Bardeen. 295 pages. 16mo., bevelled cloth, red edges. $1.25.

The book is vivacious, and the author knows the ground he describes.—The Nation. I can certify that it is true to life. I have had experience in country and village schools, as well as in the schools of the cities. The picture is true for all of them.—Supt. A. J. Rickoff. Roderick Hume took possession of me, and the book was finished at one sitting, that reached beyond the smallest hour. I have joined in the crowd in your triumphal procession. The characters are as vividly painted as any in Dickens, and the moral is something that cannot be dodged.—Prof. Edward North, Hamilton College. I began your story yesterday, after dinner. I was obliged to lay it aside in the afternoon and go to my office, but took it up again in the evening. When I finished it, I found it was past midnight. Comment as to its being an interesting story is unnecessary. Congratulations: you have made a hit.—Supt. A. McMillan, Utica. We welcome this bright, witty, vividly told story, which is not only interesting reading but contains many a profitable hint and suggestion.—Iowa Normal Monthly. Roderick Hume belongs to the same category with Warren's "Ten Thousand a Year," and Reade's "Very Hard Cash," as a book wherein a department of the public economy is shown up with all its faults, and in a form that must attract even the idle reader.—Syracuse Evening Herald. Decidedly fresh, original and breezy.—Buffalo Express. Short, spicy, pithy.—Utica Republican. The story of Roderick Hume, the bright, intelligent, brave and upright teacher, is a study worthy of contemplation.—Troy Whig. The mistake of the book is in being too matter of fact. It stirs up nests that are still occupied by hornets.—Christian Advocate. Its flashes of wit will amply repay the investment.—The Teacher. The author has written with a strong hand, and in a style vivacious and unique.—Northern Christian Advocate. To the overworked and harrassed teacher we would say, get the book, read it, laugh and be comforted.—Wisconsin Journal of Education. It is unique, truthful and instructive.—Barnes' Educational Monthly. One need not be a teacher, nor a book-agent, nor a school officer, to appreciate the abundant merits of this story.—Potsdam Courier. It is admirable, full of wise and pithy sayings, and in parts brimming over with good-natured satire.—Utica Herald.

Every teacher will find an inexpressible charm in this description of Roderick's experience in obtaining a position, in his dealings with his pupils and assistant teachers, and especially with directors and book-agents.—Practical Teacher. The interest which enchains the reader until the book is finished is ample testimony that it does not consist of educational theories, or moralizing on the nobility of the teacher's sphere.—Pacific Home and School Journal. A clever, racy production, altogether apart from its educational aspect.—Educational News, Scotland. The particular charm of the story to teachers who have had experience in the school room lies in the life-like delineations of the struggles, disappointments and successes of school-room life. While the work contains sufficient plot and incident to make it really interesting to the average novel-reader, it possesses sufficient professional information to make it very useful to the teacher.—Western Advertiser, London, Ontario, (Canada.) It describes in a quite masterly way a few traits of the school system of the State of New York. Some scenes are drawn with wonderful truth from actual life, as e. g. the one in which a change of text-books is proposed. The author is certainly a shrewd psychologist.—Erziehungs Blaetter, (translated.)

BARDEEN'S TOWNSHIP SYSTEM.—Some Facts about our Public School System. An argument for Township Supervision. By C. W. Bardeen. 32 pages, 8vo., paper. Price 25 cents.

Probably the most exhaustive comparison of the defects of our present system and the merits of the proposed change that has ever been written.—Utica Morning Herald.

BARDEEN'S YEAR BOOK.—The School Bulletin Year Book. An Educational Directory of the State of New York. No. 1, 1879, 20 pages; No. 2, 1880, 44 pages, 8vo., with Map of the State of New York, colored by Counties, Portraits, etc. Each, $1.00.

A few copies of No. 2 on ledger paper, interleaved, can be had for $2.00 each.

This work has no parallel in any other State or country. The edition for 1880 contains, by actual count, the names of 948 towns, 2,247 postoffices, 371 villages, where the postoffice and the village-name differ; 2,578 teachers, 1,358 trustees; the population of 1,054 villages, the district numbers of 1,594 schools, the amount raised by tax in 297 districts, the salaries of 1,505 teachers, and the number of Regents' scholars and the rank in the Regents' appropriation of 253 union schools and academies—all that are under visitation of the Regents.

BEEBE'S FIRST STEPS AMONG FIGURES.—First Steps among Figures. A Drill-Book in the Fundamental Rules of Arithmetic. By Levi N. Beebe. Fifth edition, enlarged and carefully revised. 336 pages, bevelled cloth, $1.00. Pupils' edition, without answers, 45 cts.

This is the simplest and clearest preparatory work in Arithmetic ever published, and gives several times as many concrete problems for primary classes as any similar work in use. It has been adopted for use in the public schools of Norwich, Conn., Colorado Springs, Col., and very many of the largest places in New York, including Syracuse, Auburn, Canandaigua, Victor, Phelps and Clifton Springs. It is the only practical exposition of the Grube method of teaching numbers.

In the fall of 1878, the Pupils' Edition was adopted for exclusive use in the schools of Norwich, Conn. On March 15, 1879, N. L. Bishop, superintendent of schools, wrote Mr. Beebe as follows:

"I appointed a series of teachers' meetings, at which the work and methods of your book were to be one of the subjects of discussion. Those meetings were held, and it was the unanimous opinion of the teachers using the book that it was a decided improvement in its methods and in grading, over any similar book they ever used. As for myself, I am delighted with it."

BEESAU'S SPIRIT OF EDUCATION.—The Spirit of Education. By M. l'abbè Amable Béesau. Translated by Mrs. E. McCarthy. 300 pages, cloth. Price $1.25.

This is an admirable presentation of the modern Roman Catholic view of education, in which the religious element predominates. The author's eloquence, shrewdness, and keen sympathy with childhood give it value even to those who disagree with him as to the province of public instruction.

BENNETT'S EDUCATION ABROAD.—National Education in Italy, France, Germany, England and Wales. By C. W. Bennett, D. D.,

Professor of History in Syracuse University. Vol. VII of the American Library of Education. 28 pages, 8vo., paper. Price 15 cts.

A learned and thorough-going dissertation.—New Orleans Times. Here is much information important to all educators.—Hartford Courant.

BIBLE IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—No. 1, Opinions of Individuals and the Press in the famous Cincinnati Case, with Judicial Decisions. 214 pages. No. 2, Addresses of Rev A. D. Mayo and Rev. Thos. Vickers. 223 pages. Vols. V and VI of the American Library of Education. Price 25 cents each.

BRADFORD'S THIRTY PROBLEMS.—The Thirty Possible Problems of Percentage, embracing a Full and Exhaustive Discussion of the theory of General Percentage, with One Hundred Illustrative Examples. By W. H. Bradford. Second Editon, revised and enlarged. 34 pages, flexible cloth. Price 25 cents.

BUELL'S ELEMENTS OF EDUCATION.—The Elements of Education. By Charles J. Buell. 25 pages, paper. Price 15 cents.

It is replete with sound views on elementary education. * * * Every educator should read it.—New England Journal of Education.

COOKE'S POLITICS AND SCHOOLS.—Politics and Schools. By Sidney G. Cooke, School-Commissioner, Wayne County. 22 pages, 8vo., paper. Price 25 cents.

An able defence of the public school as it is, in distinction from ordinary addresses which commend only the public school as it might be. It is restful to notice one essay which has no sweeping reform to advocate, and which is satisfied to commend a system which is in actual practical operation.—St. Lawrence Plaindealer.

DEGRAFF'S SCHOOL-ROOM GUIDE.—The School-Room Guide, embodying the instruction given by the author at Teachers' Institutes and especially intended to assist public-school teachers in the practical work of the school-room. By E. V. DeGraff, A. M., conductor of Teachers' Institutes. Entirely new edition, enlarged and thoroughly revised. 16mo., bevelled cloth. 457 pages. Cloth, $1.50.

This book is now recognized as the standard practical work on Teaching, and is to the beginner a library in itself. It contains discussions of the latest and best systems of Instruction, and gives methods in Primary, Intermediate and Advanced subjects. No such amount of DEFINITE and practical instruction has ever before been presented to the public. Of more than seven hundred testimonials, we can present only a few to show the tenor of the rest.—It is just what its name implies: a real guide to school-room work.—Practical Teacher It is practicable, thorough and useable.—Barnes' Educational Monthly. It is well worth its price to any teacher.—H. B. Brown, Principal Northern Indiana Normal School. We procured it for a dozen of our young teachers, who find it just the help needed. It is better adapted than any other to the wants of teachers of district or ungraded schools.—C. C. Boynton, Principal Leland and Gray Seminary, Vt. To the teachers who have been fortunate enough to listen to Prof. DeGraff's instruction at institutes, it need not be said that if any person is capable to prepare such a guide as this, it is he.—Educational Weekly. It is such a manual as every teacher needs.—Educational Journal of Virginia. We do not know of any other book which contains so much matter directly useful to a young teacher, or to an old one for that matter, as this.—Wisconsin Journal of Education. It contains more practical information for the country teacher than any other book which we have ever examined.—Normal Teacher.

DE GRAFF'S SONG BUDGET.—The Song Budget, a collection of Songs and Music for Schools and Educational Gatherings. Compiled by E. V. De Graff. Enlarged edition. Fifty-eight thousand copies of this book have been sold. It contains 72 pages, 107 songs, 5 full page and many smaller illustrations. Price 15 cents each; $1.50 per dozen.

The best collection of school songs that we know of.—Western Advertiser, London, Ontario.

DE GRAFF'S SCHOOL-ROOM CHORUS.—The School-Room Chorus, a collection of 200 Songs suitable for Public and Private Schools. By E. V. DeGraff. 148 pages, many illustrations, boards. Price, 35 cts; $3.50 a dozen.

This new and beautiful singing-book contains all the music and illustrations of the Song Budget, with about as many more in addition. Twenty-third thousand now ready. "Far superior to any book that I have ever examined for primary schools."—W. W. Bird, Evanston, Ill.

FITCH'S ART OF QUESTIONING.—The Art of Questioning. By Joshua G. Fitch, M. A. A hand-book for every teacher. Volume II of the School-Room Classics. 36 pages, paper. Price 15 cents.

This is the abridged form of a little work published some years ago by Professor Fitch, when Master of the Borough Road Training School, London, from which he passed to the position of one of Her Majesty's Inspectors of Schools. He is an able man, and was a skilful practical teacher. The "Art of Questioning" will be found to contain many hints and suggestions that will be helpful in school-room management.—Popular Science Monthly. Mr. Fitch, who is happily inside his subject and as clear as a bell, * * shows by precept and example how a teacher may develop interest, connect new knowledge with what has already been attained, stimulate mental action, and put a living spirit into the exercises.—Christian Register.

FITCH'S ART OF SECURING ATTENTION.—The Art of Securing Attention. By Joshua G. Fitch. Volume IV of the School-Room Classics. 44 pages, paper. Price 15 cents.

This is similar to the foregoing, by the same author, and will be found equally useful.

HENDRICK'S QUESTIONS IN LITERATURE.—A series of Questions in English and American Literature, prepared for Class-Drill and Private study. By Mary F. Hendrick, Teacher of Reading and Literature in the Cortland State Normal School. 76 pages, interleaved, boards. Price 35 cents.

The questions are keen, pithy, and to the point. * * Must prove of invaluable help to the busy teacher.—A. F. Blaisdell, in New England Journal of Education. The author has done her work well.—Ohio Educational Monthly. The whole is immensely suggestive.—Buffalo School Journal.

HOOSE'S STUDIES IN ARTICULATION.—Studies in Articulation. A Study and Drill-Book in the Alphabetical Elements of the English Language. By Jas. H. Hoose, Ph. D., Principal of the Cortland State Normal School. Fourth Edition, revised and enlarged. 70 pages, 16mo., bevelled cloth. Price 50 cents.

This work not only analyzes each sound in the language, but gives as illustrations hundreds of words commonly mispronounced. Hon. W. D. Henkle, editor of the National Teacher and of Educational Notes and Queries, says: "It is needless to say that we are pleased with this book, for it presents just what we have for years discussed in Teachers' Institutes, and urged should be taught in schools." Supt. A. J. Rickoff, Cleveland, Ohio, says: "Dr. Hoose's 'Studies in Articulation' is the most useful manual of the kind that I know of. It should be in the hands of every teacher. It should be a text-book in every Teachers' Institute."

HOOSE'S METHODS OF TEACHING.—On the Province of Methods of Teaching. A Professional Study. By James H. Hoose. Second edition, enlarged. 414 pages, 16mo., bevelled cloth. Price $1.00.

This work is the fruit of a life of professional study, and is believed to fix certain principles of pedagogy as a groundwork for future investigation. The commendations it has received from noted educators are remarkable. Supt. W. T. Harris, of St. Louis, says: "I consider your positions to be eminently sound, and your views everywhere to be thoughtful and suggestive of thought, and as such a work I hope to see it in the hands of all the teachers of our land." Principal Louis Soldan, of the St. Louis Normal School, writes in The Western: "There is such a large number of unmeaning treatises and books on the theory of education, and so few works of scientific merit, that we are apt to look at new publications in this field with an unpleasant recollection of many past disappointments. We are glad, therefore, to be able to give unreserved praise to the little work before us. * * * which will introduce the student to a deeper insight into the philosophy of education." Supervisor F. W. Parker, of Boston, late of Quincy, Mass., says: "It is the most valuable work on education ever published in this country."

HUNTINGTON'S UNCONSCIOUS TUITION. Unconscious Tuition. By Rt. Rev. F. D. Huntington, S. T. D., Bishop of Central New York. Vol. I of the School-Room Classics. 45 pages, paper. Price 15 cents.

If the subsequent numbers hold any comparison with this incomparably excellent paper by Mr. Huntington, they will be a valuable addition to the literature of every grade. —New England Journal of Education. The most masterly essay upon true education that we ever read, and we know that no teacher can study it and become embued with its spirit without becoming the better for it.—Practical Teacher, Chicago. This is one of those suggestive studies which only men of profoundly thoughtful cast of mind are capable of producing. True, it deals only with matters which to a practical teacher are of daily occurrence; but a perusal of the essay at once awakens one to the consciousness that what he or she has been seeing and noting for years, has, after all, been only dimly seen, and most imperfectly noted.—Educational News, Edinburgh, Scotland.

KENNEDY'S PHILOSOPHY OF SCHOOL DISCIPLINE.—The Philosophy of School Discipline. By John Kennedy, Conductor of Teachers' Institutes. Volume III of the School-Room Classics. 35 pages, paper. Price 15 cents.

This remarkable address is everywhere received by educators as the foundation of a truly scientific theory of a subject hitherto treated empirically. "You have struck the keynote of the whole matter; have given a real philosophy and have formulated a body of facts which hitherto have been but loosely arranged, even in the minds of the best educators."—F. P. Lantry, Conductor of Teachers' Institutes.

LOCKE'S ESSAY ON EDUCATION.—Some Thoughts Concerning Education. By John Locke. Volume I of the American Library of Education. 192 pages, paper. Price 25 cents.

Rev. R. H. Quick, author of "Essays on Educational Reforms," says: "The Germans, who hitherto have had the history of education in their own hands, have uniformly attributed an important part of it to one Englishman, and one only—the philosopher Locke. * * The Thoughts Concerning Education has been hitherto the solitary English classic in pedagogy."

McMILLAN'S UNIFICATION.—Unification, or the Union of the Department of Public Instruction and the Board of Regents Not Desirable. By A. McMillan, Superintendent of Schools, Utica. 10 pages, 8vo., paper. Price 25 cents.

NEWMAN'S TOWNSHIP SYSTEM.—Objections to the Township System. By W. W. Newman, School Commissioner, Onondaga County. 17 pages, 8vo., paper. Price 25 cents.

MANN'S PHYSIOLOGY IN SCHOOL.—The Study of Physiology in School. By Horace Mann. Vol. III of the American Library of Education. 152 pages, paper. Price 25 cents.

NORTHAM'S CIVIL GOVERNMENT.—Civil Government for Common Schools. Prepared as a Manual for Public Instruction in the State of New York. To which are appended the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of the State of New York, as recently amended. By Henry C. Northam, Conductor of Teachers' Institutes. Fifth edition. 253 pages, bevelled cloth. Price 75 cents.

In the Legislature of 1878, 112 copies were ordered for the use of members of the Assembly. Its almost universal use has flooded us with recommendations, of which we can insert but a few.—A book not so much for teaching young students to reason as to impress upon their minds, at a period when they are most retentive, that fundamental knowledge so important to every citizen.—Andrew D. White, LL. D., President of Cornell University and Minister to Germany. I commend the book for its directness of purpose, brevity of discussion, and comprehensiveness of subject matter.—James H. Hoose, Ph.D., Principal of the Cortland State Normal School. I recommend it to every teacher as a hand-book.—Coumissioner A. E. Sawyer, Jefferson County. Just the book demanded by the times.—Commissioner A. B. Watkins, Ph.D., Jefferson County. Will be the means of introducing this much-neglected study into all our schools.—Commissioner John B. Riley, Clinton County. The best I have seen.—Commissioner R. H. Williams, Steuben County. The best work on the subject.—Commissioner J. H. McIntosh, Delaware County. Will soon be used as a text-book in every school in this county.—Commissioner C. W. Hamilton, Kings County. It meets the wants of our Teachers' Classes.—Principal Barney Whitney, Lawrenceville Academy.

NORTHROP'S HIGH SCHOOLS.—High Schools. By B. G. Northrop, Secretary of the Connecticut Board of Education. 26 pages. 8vo, paper. Price 25 cents.

This defence of higher public instruction is the ablest as well as the latest which has appeared.

POOLER'S CIVIL GOVERNMENT CHART.—A Chart of Civil Government. By Charles T. Pooler, A.M., Conductor of Teachers' Institutes. On bond paper, cloth covers, 25 cents. On ledger paper, unfolded, $5 per hundred.

This chart is widely used in connection with Northam's Civil Government, but may be employed with any other text-book, or without a text-book. It gives in parallel lines the corresponding officers in the school district, village or city, commissioner district, county, state and nation, with salaries, length of service, etc.

REGENTS' QUESTIONS.—The Regents' Questions, 1866 to 1880, being the Questions for the preliminary examinations for admission to the University of the State of New York, prepared by the Regents of the University, and participated in simultaneously by nearly two hundred and fifty Academies, forming a basis for distributing more than a million dollars. Compiled by Daniel J. Pratt, A. M., Ph. D., Assistant Secretary, Regents of the University.

Since 1866 the Regents of the State of New York have held examinations three times a year in all the Academies and Academic Departments of the Union Schools, granting certificates to such pupils as pass satisfactorily, and apportioning upon these certificates a large sum of money among the schools of the State. As pupils begin the study of the higher branches after passing this examination, the questions are made to embrace all that is practical in the above branches. In all these 9,000 questions not a single unimportant or "catch" question can be found. These questions have been published in one neatly bound volume, and separately in pamphlet form. They are now used as text-books in many of the leading schools of the country. Cornell University, recognizing their practical character, now admits, without any further examination upon these subjects, pupils who have passed an examination upon these questions.

The following TEN EDITIONS are now published :

1. The Regents' Questions in Arithmetic, Geography, Grammar and Spelling, complete, with Keys to the Arithmetic, Geography and Grammar Questions, 16mo, cloth..... $2 00
2. The Regents' Questions in Arithmetic, Geography, Grammar and Spelling, Complete..... 1.00
3. The Regents' Questions in Arithmetic, flexible cloth. .25
4. Key to the same, flexible cloth..... .25
5. The same, each on slip of Card-board, in box, with key 1 00
6. The Regents' Questions in Geography, flexible cloth. .25
7. Key to the same, flexible cloth..... .25
8. The Regents' Questions in Grammar, flexible cloth, .25

9. The Regents' Questions in Grammar, with Key, with references upon every point to all the leading text-books now in use, thus forming a COMPARATIVE ENGLISH GRAMMAR, cloth..... 1.00
10. The Regents' Questions in Spelling flexible cloth ... .25

These Regents' Questions are now so universally used, not only in schools under visitation of the Regents, but in progressive schools everywhere, in other states and even in other countries, that it is unnecessary to do more than call attention to the different editions. Our last edition of No. 5, the 1000 Arithmetic Questions on 500 card-board slips, with the same questions in Book-form and Key, is perhaps the most desirable of all our publications.

For convenience of the Teacher these questions are printed in Four Colors, according to the subjects involved which are distributed as follows ;

GRAY:—Addition, Subtraction, Multiplication, Division and Properties of Numbers.

PINK:—Fractions, both Common and Decimal.

LILAC:—Compound Numbers, including United States Money.

GOLD:—Percentage, Proportion, Progression, and Evolution.

Questions suited to a class of any grade may therefore be chosen at sight, which makes them as useful in Primary Schools as in those more advanced. Teachers will find it profitable to distribute them once or twice at the close of each recitation in arithmetic, selecting the color adapted to the work of the day. School Commissioners and others who examine teachers will find these questions even more complete, fair, and suited to the purpose, than questions specially printed for them are apt to be.

The sale of Four Editions of these Questions as first issued, only half as many in number and in every way inferior in form, encourages us to believe that this improved edition will be accorded a favorite place on the Teacher's Desk.

RICHARDSON'S LEARNING AND HEALTH.—Learning and Health. By Benjamin Ward Richardson. Vol. V of the School-Room Classics. 39 pages, paper. Price 15 cts.

The eminent rank of the author among English physicians and authors gives weight to this thoughtful inquiry into certain tendencies of the modern public school.

A timely topic, ably treated. We commend heartily this series of brief papers. They have all been excellent.—National Journal of Education. Certainly worth many times its weight in gold.—Eclectic Teacher. A classic worthy of a permanent place in American literature.—Barnes' Educational Monthly.

ROE'S WORK IN NUMBER.—A Work in Number for Junior Classes in Graded Schools. By Martha Roe, Teacher of Methods in the Cortland State Normal School. Second edition, 161 pages, bevelled cloth. Price 50 cts.

We have used the book for nearly a year, and find that the abundant provisions for class-work and class-drill have produced more independent and accurate work on the part of the pupils than was secured by the use of any other work we had obtained.—J. H. Hoose, Ph. D., Principal Cortland State Normal School.

RUSSELL'S FIFTY SONGS.—Half a Hundred Songs for the School-Room and Home. By Hattie Sanford Russell. 103 pages, boards. Price 35 cents.

Has been in use in this Institution since January, and our teachers seem well pleased with the book.—Lyman P. Alden, Sup't State Public School, Coldwater, Mich. I have such a decided appreciation of its merit in respect to the sentiment of its songs and their rhythmical form, and their adaptation to use in schools and families, that I shall be disposed to do what I can to further their introduction.—Henry N. Day, D.D., New Haven, Author of Art of Discourse, etc. Just what our pupils of the intermediate grade need.—E. P. Irish, East Hudson, Mich. Adapted to every phase of school life.—Buffalo School Journal. The words have been adapted to melodies generally familiar, and the work will, we think, prove a favorite.—The Teacher, Phila.

SCHOOL BULLETIN.—The School Bulletin and New York State Educational Journal. C. W. Bardeen, Editor. The largest and cheapest School Journal in the United States. $1 a year. Specimen copies, 10 cents. Volumes I, II, III, IV and V, handsomely bound in brown cloth, with gilt stamp on side and back. Each $2.00.

It is the aim of the School Bulletin to afford teachers of all grades practical intelligence, suggestions and help. It has been from the beginning the recognized educational journal of New York, and the best teachers in the State are always ready to present in its columns the secrets of their success. Among its features that have been most commended is its educational news. Teachers always want to know what is going on in the educational world. What schools are changing teachers? What salaries are being paid here and there? What new topics are they discussing at Institutes and Associations, and what do they say about them? What is the Legislature doing about school matters? When is the next examination for State certificates? What were the questions at the last examinations, and how many passed? Who is married and who married her? Who is buried, and who takes his place? What cases in school law are before the courts, and how are they settled? What is the programme for the next State Association, what is to be seen there, and how much will it cost to go? What new books useful to teachers have come out, what do they amount to, and what do they cost?—Questions like these and hundreds more are answered every month in the Bulletin, and a special department, called the Query Box, enables the teacher to ask any question that comes up in the daily school-room work. The subscription to the Bulletin is one dollar a year. Instead of making deductions or offering cheap premiums, we prefer to charge the full dollar for the paper, and then make it worth the dollar to every subscriber.

In a recent article on the financial weakness of most school journals, the editor of Barnes' Educational Monthly says:

"Educational journals do pay. The New York SCHOOL BULLETIN pays; the Pennsylvania School Journal pays; the New England Journal of Education pays. Could not Bicknell, Wickersham and Bardeen be appointed a joint committee, and a report squeezed out of them in which they would tell How? It would be hailed with joy by a hundred poor, struggling, philanthropic, self-sacrificing and non-sustaining journals, now living in vain expectation of striking a bonanza."

To which the editor of the BULLETIN replies, that he will not speak for himself, but will let a man now serving his second term as School Commissioner tell for him how he makes the SCHOOL BULLETIN pay:

PARKSVILLE, Sullivan County, N. Y.,
April 13th, 1880.

Davis, Bardeen & Co.:

GENTLEMEN—Please send me two copies of Northam's Civil Government, by mail, and the SCHOOL BULLETIN, commencing with the number for March. You may hereafter consider me a constant subscriber to the BULLETIN. I have not taken it for a year past, because I was a subscriber to three other educational journals, two of them weeklies. But I consider the SCHOOL BULLETIN, monthly as it is, of more value to a New York School Commissioner than all the others together. IT KEEPS HIM POSTED UPON JUST WHAT HE NEEDS TO KNOW.

Find enclosed $2.00.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH TAYLOR,
School Commissioner,
2d District Sullivan County.

WELLS'S PENMANSHIP.—A New and Complete System of Penmanship. By C. R. Wells, Teacher of Writing in the Public Schools of Syracuse. Price, $1. Position Guide, 35 cents.

The following testimonial was presented by the Superintendent and Principals of the Public Schools of Syracuse, after a careful trial of this method: "Having examined and personally tested the Wells improved method for teaching penmanship, we are convinced that the plan adopted in this work is eminently practical, and that the author has suggested a most intelligent and feasible system for the acquirement of this important branch.

"This method for practice being based upon a thorough discipline of the hand and arm, it is evident that the movements acquired can be depended upon, not only for the development of a rapid and graceful form of writing, but for permanency as well.

"We are confident that any person by following our systematically printed instructions, and practising from each exercise according to directions, can be very certain of securing a greatly improved style of penmanship."

PART II. SCHOOL RECORDS.

1. THE BULLETIN CLASS REGISTER.

—The Bulletin Class Register. Designed by Edward Smith, Superintendent of Schools, Syracuse, N. Y. Press-board covers, 48 pages. Price 25 cents.

For several years these Registers have been used annually in the public schools of Syracuse, Binghamton, and other cities, no other kind being employed for any purpose whatever. Each one gives a daily register of 360 pupils for one term, or of 180 pupils for two terms, or of 90 pupils for four terms, etc. It is the simplest, neatest, and cheapest Class Register made. As prepared for the schools of Syracuse, the Class Register is six inches wide, being calculated for a term of 20 weeks. We have manufactured another edition, 4¾ inches wide, for schools having terms of 14 weeks. The price is the same and orders will be filled for either; but as most teachers prefer the latter because it slips easily into the coat-pocket, we send that whenever the other edition is not specified.

2 THE PEABODY SCHOOL RECORD.

—The Peabody School Record, adapted to One Year. Boards. No. 1, 5x9 inches, three blanks per day. Price $1.00. No. 2, 8x10½ inches, five blanks per day. Price $1.50.

This is a Roll Book, Teachers' Class Book, Receiving Book, and Register, in one, and can be used in schools of all grades. The plan of ruling and cutting must be seen to be appreciated. It saves time as no other can.

3. RYAN'S WEEKLY RECORD. — A Weekly School Record, by G. W Ryan, Superintendent of Schools, Bradford County, Pa. Price for 14 sheets, 784 reports, 50 cents.

What are the requisites of a perfect system of school records? Three of them are these: convenience, completeness, cheapness. In these particulars, Ryan's Reports have no equal. Price 50 cents per 14 sheets, or for one term.

The systems of reports in common use require as much book-keeping as a savings bank. Each recitation is marked upon a separate page, perhaps in a separate book. Then all these must be transferred to some one book or card, together with the attendance and deportment. This results is one of two things; either the teacher wastes upon it time, labor and strength needed for other duties; or, as oftener happens, one keeps no real record, but marks the cards on general principles at the end of the week or month. RYAN'S REPORTS REQUIRE NO COPYING. The weekly form is as follows:

WK	A M	P M	DEP	RDG	PEN	SP'L	AR	GR	GY	AL	BK	HIS	SCIEN	MATH	L'NG'S
Mon
Tues
Wed
Thrs
Frid

WK	A M	P M	DEP	RDG	PEN	SP'L	AR	GR	GY	AL	BK	HIS	SCIEN	MATH	L'NG'S
Mon
Tues
Wed
Thrs
Frid

Fifty-six or one hundred and twelve (single or double page) of these blanks lie upon the desk always before the eye. Attendance, deportment and recitations are marked AT THE TIME; and at the end of the week the sheet is cut up into the little rectangles, each pupil carries home the one bearing his name, and brings it back on Monday morning with the parent's name written on the back. The percentage of the week may be transferred to a term report, which we also furnish, at 50 cents per hundred.

5. JACKSON'S CLASS-RECORD CARDS.—A Short Marking System. By E. P. Jackson, A. M., Sub-master Boston Latin School. Price per set, of 90 white and 10 colored cards, with instructions and hints, 50 cents.

By these cards all the pupils are called to recite promiscuously the same number of times in a given period, as a term, month, or week, without any care or attention to this point on the part of the teacher. Hence it is necessary to mark only the imperfect recitation, and for this purpose the card is always under the teacher's eye, and the marks are not figures but dots. The percentage is obtained almost mechanically, and the card itself may serve as a report to the parents.

6. SHAW'S SCHOLAR'S REGISTER.—Shaw's Scholar's Register, for each week, with abstract for the Term. Paper, 16 pages. Price 50 cents per dozen. Specimens by mail, 6 cents.

This register is in the form of a handsome book, well worth preserving by the pupil, and calculated to inspire pride in his daily record. It is arranged for a daily record of the pupil's attendance, conduct, and recitations for fourteen weeks. After this follows an abstract for the term, in which the whole is so condensed that the comparative standing of the pupil for the term may be observed at a glance. The labor of preparing a daily record too often proves a serious tax upon the teacher's time. Shaw's Scholar's Register obviates this difficulty by having each pupil keep his own record. After a lesson has been recited it is to be marked in the proper space by the pupil with a lead pencil. The teacher can mark with ink such changes as are needed, make the average for the week, and carry it forward to the abstract. On this abstract there are spaces for the parent to make remarks, and specify weekly the time given to study at home. This is a most important feature. The correct use of the Scholar's Register will save the teacher's time, will stimulate the pupil to more punctual attendance, to better conduct, and to better lessons. He will be careful that his own hand may not be required to record irregularities, misdemeanors, or poor lessons. This book is really a model, and should be examined by every teacher.

7. STRONG'S SCHOLAR'S DIARY AND COMPOSITION BOOK.—The Scholar's Diary; designed for the use of all who go to school. By Emory F. Strong. Paper, 16 printed and 32 blank pages. Price $1.00 per dozen.

This diary is designed to exercise the young in the practice of making a daily record of items and events. It cultivates and strengthens habits of observation and accuracy. Such a record, faithfully kept, will prove a history of the writer's life, its value increasing with passing years.

It contains—I. Specimen pages of a diary, suggesting the manner of making daily entries; II. Rules and maxims for Pupils; III. Subjects for Composition, with simple suggestions; IV. Rules for the use of capital letters; V. Rules for Punctuation; VI. Blank pages for making the daily entries of an ordinary school term. It will usually be found sufficient for preserving copies of the compositions written during the term.

8. AIDS TO SCHOOL DISCIPLINE.—Aids to School Discipline; a substitute for School Records, Reports and Prizes. Per Box, $1.25.

The Aids may be used in various ways. This is convenient; In the morning give each pupil a card (5 merits), representing a perfect day, to be forfeited for misdemeanor, or failure in recitation. Single Merits and Half-Merits are for pupils who fail to retain their Cards, yet are worthy of some credit. Five cards held by any pupil are exchanged for a Check (25 merits), representing a perfect school week. Four checks are exchanged for a Certificate of Merit, representing 100 merits of a perfect month. These certificates bear the pupil's name, and are signed by the teacher. The number held shows the pupil's standing.

PART III. BLANK BOOKS FOR PUPILS' USE.

1. THE BULLETIN NOTE BOOK.—Note Book for Teachers' Institutes, prepared by E. V. DeGraff, A. M. Press-board covers, round edges, 40 pages. Price $5.00 per hundred.

This book was originally prepared only for taking notes at Teachers' Institutes, but grew into such favor with teachers as a cheaper and neater book than they could elsewhere purchase, that we now manufacture them for school use. They are used for written spelling, as well as for notes of all kinds. They are done up in packages of ten, and are sent post-paid.

2. THE BULLETIN BLANK SPELLER.—This contains 40 pages, octavo size, and is bound in Stiff Covers, so that it may be written in when laid upon the knee. It is ruled for 70 lessons of 25 words each, with additional pages for mis-spelled words. It also contains rules for spelling, list of mis-spelled words, etc. Of its general character and utility, we need only say that it was prepared by Principal H. B. Buckham, of the Buffalo State Normal School. Price 15 cents each.

"No one ever became a good speller by rule, and very few do so without much practice." "Spelling is a common art; so common, that for one not to spell correctly is at best discreditable; but perfect spelling is so uncommon as almost to place it in the rank of fine arts."

3. THE BULLETIN COMPOSITION BOOK.—This is similar to the above, and prepared by the same author. It is ruled for correction by a system of time-saving marks, each of which points out a particular fault. Price as above, 15 cents each.

This book contains besides the blank pages ruled for composition, ten quarto pages of condensed instruction upon Composition, Errors, Subjects, Outlines, Style and Figures, Faults in the use of Figures, Capital Letters, Punctuation, etc. We venture to say that a class will derive more real instruction from these ten pages than from a term's study of any Rhetoric published.

4. THE BULLETIN BOOK-KEEPING BLANKS.—These blanks contain the same number of pages of the same size and ruling as Bryant & Stratton's and other similar systems, but are bound in press-board instead of in paper, making them much more durable and handsome. The set consists of Day-Book, Journal, Ledger, Cash-Book, and Sales-Book, each 32 pages, ruled for single or double entry, and sufficient for a term's work. They may be ordered in sets or separately. Price 15 cents each.

5. THE BULLETIN WRITING PADS.—Of these pads we have sold more than one hundred thousand; and as we have from time to time added to the sizes, we shall hereafter give a special name to each size, in order to prevent mistake. Each pad contains 96 leaves, or 192 pages, and contains upon the back a label with the portrait of the man whose name it bears, with descriptive sketch. These pads cannot be sent by mail, as the postage (16 cts. per pound) exceeds the cost of the pad.

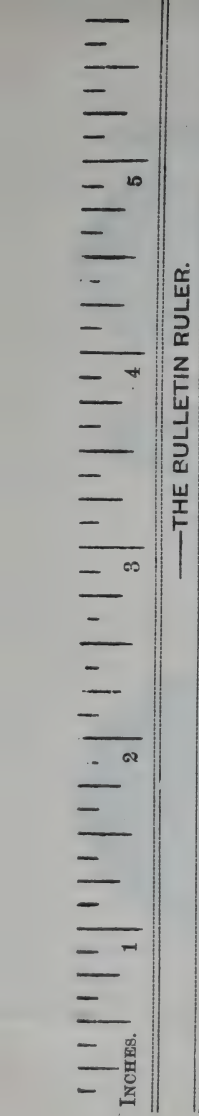
(a) THE ARMSTRONG PAD, $5\frac{3}{4}$x$6\frac{3}{4}$ inches, heavy paper, sized to receive ink. Price 7 cts.

(b) THE WOOLWORTH PAD, $4\frac{1}{2}$x9 inches, light paper. This corresponds closely with the original "Bulletin Pad," but is larger and of better paper. Price 7 cts.



(c) THE GILMOUR PAD, $6\frac{3}{4}$x$10\frac{1}{2}$ inches, light paper, like the "Woolworth." Price 10 cents.

(d) THE MURRAY PAD, $6\frac{3}{4}$x$9\frac{1}{2}$ inches, heavy paper, like the "Armstrong." Price 18 cents.

PART IV. SCHOOL SUPPLIES.

1. THE COMMON SCHOOL THERMOMETER.—Price, in neat box, post-paid, 50 cents.

"A Thermometer should be kept in every school-room, and hung on the coolest side of it. The proper temperature should be determined by unchangeable laws: not by the variable feelings or caprice of any individual. Without a Thermometer,—if the teacher be habituated to live in the open air; if he be healthy, vigorous and young; if he walk a mile or several miles to school; and especially, if he keep upon his feet during school-hours,—the scholars will be drilled into a resignation to great suffering from the cold. If, on the other hand, the teacher lead a sedentary life; if his health be feeble; if he step into the school-room from a neighboring door, he will, perhaps unconsciously, create an artificial summer about himself, and subject the children to a perilous transition in temperature, whenever they leave his tropical regions. In this way, a child's lungs may get a wound in early life, which neither Cuba nor the south of France can ever afterwards heal. A selfish or inconsiderate master will burn a whole room full of children during the chill, and freeze them during the fever of his own ague-fits, They must parch or congeal, as he shivers or glows."—HORACE MANN, in First Annual Report as Secretary of the Massachusetts State Board of Education.

2. THE BULLETIN SCHOOL RULER.—

These are one foot long, one inch wide, printed on manilla tag-board (or six inches long, one inch wide, on very heavy card-board, as preferred), with inches and metres on one side, and an immense amount of statistical information on the other. Price, 3 cents each; $1.00 per hundred. For drawing-classes, map-drawing, etc., these Rulers are indispensable.

---

3. WALL MAPS.—(a,) New York; (b,) United States. Price, $2.00 each.

We offer to Teachers and School Officers with our hearty recommendation, the following Maps, of which we have laid in a large stock, believing them to be the best as well as the cheapest maps in the market; a.—MAP OF NEW YORK STATE. This Map is 3½x4 feet, handsomely colored by Counties, so as to be available for a County Map, and gives the most recent changes in railroads, etc. It is well varnished and mounted on rollers. It is the very best wall-map of New York State published. b.—MAP OF THE UNITED STATES. And upon the reverse side, MAP OF THE WORLD. This Map is 3½x5 feet, and though not as handsome as the Map of New York, is brightly colored, and the best cheap Map made. Both Maps will be sent by express for $3.00.

Our New York Map is printed on very heavy and durable paper, but some teachers have asked for the same Map cloth mounted Accordingly we have just issued a new edition, mounted on cloth. Price $3.00: with Map of United States, $4.00.

We furnish complete sets of Wall-maps of any kind, but we recommend Mitchell's. Price, large size, per set, $20.00; small size $10.00.

4. DISSECTED MAPS.—(a) New York, (b) United States. Price 75 cents each.

These maps are brightly colored, pasted upon wood, and sawn into pieces, each of which is a county or a state, respectively. In putting the pieces together one is made familiar at once with the location, the shape, the size, and the relative position of the various political divisions; and thus acquires a familiarity with the geography of New York or of the United States, as the case may be, which no amount of hard study could give.

5. SCHOOL AND FAMILY GLOBES.—

We keep constantly on hand and on exhibition 24 different styles of globes. We cordially invite all teachers and school officers who can do so to call at our store and examine them. Especially would we ask them to compare these globes in beauty and strength with those of other manufacturers. We make no charge for boxing and shipping, and warrant every globe sold to be exactly as represented. The globes are entirely new, showing the latest political divisions, the annexation of Alaska, Alsace and Lorraine, the position of the Atlantic Cable, etc. The Ocean Currents are represented, and the water is colored blue, thus making the globe handsomer and less easily soiled than one upon which the water is white. While all our globes are equally well-made, we recommend as especially cheap and servicable Nos 2, 4, 41 and 42, of which four we sell more than of all the rest together.

STYLE A

is a cheap and durable mounting, the Globe itself being precisely like the more expensive styles. The earth is inclined at the angle of 23½ degrees, and the political divisions are clearly shown.

STYLE A.

PRICES:

No. 1, diam. 3 inches, $ 1 25
" 2, " 5 " 2 25
" 3, " 6 " 5 00
" 4, " 12 " 15 00

STYLE B

differs from Style A chiefly in the addition of a semi-meridian.

PRICES:

No. 11, diam. 6 inches, $5 00
" 12, " 8 " 7 50

STYLE C

has a round stand of either wood, iron or brass, with horizon, meridian and quadrant.

STYLE B.

PRICES:

No. 21, diam. 8 inches, iron stand.....$11 00
" 22, " 8 " brass " 12 00
" 23, " 12 " wood "no horizon 20 00
" 24, " 12 " wood "with " 25 00
" 25, " 12 " brass " 30 00

STYLE D

is similar to the preceding, but has a tripod instead of a round base.

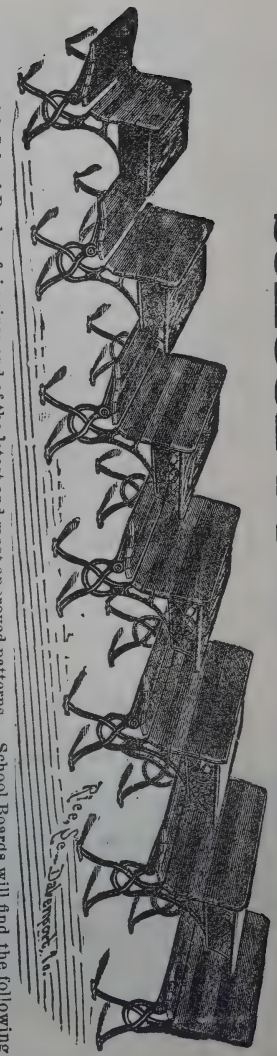
PRICES:

No. 31, diameter 8 inches, o'd gold and jet..$15 00
" 32, " 12 " old gold and jet.. 40 00

STYLE E

is a new style of tripod, compact, strong and neat. The horizon is fixed. They are shipped already set up, and the box serves as a case to protect them from injury when not in use.

STYLE E.



PRICES:

No. 41, diameter 8 inches.....$12 00
" 42, " 12 " 30 00

STYLE F

is lower in height than the preceding and of a different pattern, but like it is shipped already set up and is in every way a most desirable piece of apparatus.

SCHOOL FURNITURE.

We furnish School Desks of six sizes and of the latest and most approved patterns. School Boards will find the following table correct and valuable. It will aid them in determining just how many seats a house will hold and the sizes wanted. Write to us for prices.

The World's Sages, Thinkers, and Reformers. By D. M. BENNETT, Editor of "The Truth Seeker." Octavo; second edition; enlarged and revised. Being the biographies and important doctrines of the most distinguished teachers, philosophers, reformers, innovators, founders of new schools of thought and religion, disbelievers in current theology, and the deepest thinkers and most active humanitarians of the world, from Menu down through the succeeding three thousand years to our own time. Price, cloth, $3; leather, $4; morocco, gilt edges, $4.50.

The Champions of the Church: Their Crimes and Persecutions. By D. M. BENNETT. Biographical sketches of eminent Christians, from the time of the reputed founder of Christianity to the present. A companion book to "The World's Sages, Thinkers, and Reformers." Containing a correct history of the distinguished ornaments and diabolical characters of the church. A full account is given of the bloody wars which Christianity has inhumanly waged to spread its rule. It also gives a history of Jesuitism for three centuries. The whole is based upon Christian authorities. Price, cloth, $3; leather, $4; morocco, gilt edges, $4.50.

Analysis of Religious Belief. By VISCOUNT AMBERLEY, son of Lord John Russell, who was twice Premier of England. Complete, from the London edition. This remarkable work has attracted unusual attention in England. It is the work of a brilliant young lord of Christian parents, who was brought up in the Christian faith, but who, upon investigation and reflection, became a decided unbeliever; the result of which is the elaborate work here named, the preparation of which occupied him several years. Price, cloth, $3; leather. $4; morocco, gilt edges, $4.50.

The Great Works of Thomas Paine, Complete. New edition. The cheapest and best ever sold. Contains Life of Paine; his theological writings—the Age of Reason, Examination of Prophecies, Reply to Bishop Llandaff, Letter to Mr. Erskine, Essay on Dreams, Letter to Camille Jordan, Of the Religion of Deism; his political writings—Common Sense, The Crisis (Nos. I. to XVI. inclusive), and The Rights of Man. All in one octavo volume, with a fine steel portrait of Paine. Cloth, $3; leather, $4; morocco, gilt, $4.50.

Supernatural Religion: An Inquiry into the Reality of Divine Revelation. Decidedly the ablest work in this line ever published. Probably no work printed in England excited greater interest than this. It was issued anonymously and the great inquiry was, "Who is the author?" It is most damaging to the claims of Christianity, and its positions and statements have never been refuted by the clergy. It is very scholarly and enters into the examination of the original Greek in detail and with great exactness Three 8vo volumes in one, revised and corrected, and accurately reproduced from the latest London edition, which sells at $15.00. The London Times, in speaking of this great work, uses this language: "No book published in the world, at any time or in any age, has had the influence and effect on the thinking part of the community as this work. It has done more to open the eyes of the ignorant and credulous and sweep away the cobwebs of dogma and superstition than any other book. It no doubt has a strong rival in Mr. Greg's 'Creed of Christendom,' but the books are of an altogether different class. Both are far ahead of anything else of the kind published. They are a library in themselves. A study of these two books will give the opponent of dogmatic Christians a great advantage in a discussion. Every point is carefully and minutely investigated and stripped of any rotten accretions. The most devout and sincere Christian can find nothing but which is manly and respectably argued and free from offensiveness, which is not often the case in books of this nature." Published complete in a volume of 1000 pp., with a full index, at the following low prices: Cloth, $4; leather, $5; morocco, gilt edges, $5.50.

The foregoing five works are all denominated "The Truth Seeker Library." If all are ordered together, and sent by Express, one dollar on each will be deducted from the regular prices.

Nature's Revelations of Character; or Physiognomy Illustrated. Being the moral and volitive dispositions of mankind as manifested in the human form and countenance. By JOSEPH SIMMS, M.D. This work is the fruit of twenty years' diligent observation of nature, and presents a new and complete analysis and classification of the powers of the human mind and body, together with the physiognomical signs by which every faculty is disclosed. In one volume of 650 8vo pp.; illustrated by 260 cuts. Price, cloth, $3; leather. $4; morocco, gilt edges, $4.50.

Paine's Theological Works. In one volume, comprising Age of Reason, Examination of Prophecies, Reply to Bishop Llandaff, Letter to Mr. Erskine, Essay on Dreams, Of the Religion of Deism, etc., with a Life and fine steel portrait of Paine. Cloth, $1.50.

Paine's Political Works. In one volume, comprising Common Sense, The Crisis (Nos. I. to XXI. inclusive), The Rights of Man, and Life of Paine, with a fine steel portrait. Cloth, $1.50.

The Age of Reason. By THOMAS PAINE. Large type. Paper, 25 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

The Age of Reason and the Examination of Prophecies. By THOMAS PAINE. Large type. Paper, 50 cents; cloth, 75 cents.

Common Sense. BY THOMAS PAINE. His first and most important political work. Paper, 15 cents.

The Rights of Man. By THOMAS PAINE. Written in defense of his fellow-man. A work almost without a peer in the world. Large type. Paper, 50 cents; cloth, 80 cents.

The Crisis. By THOMAS PAINE. Containing Nos. I. to XVI. inclusive. Written in the "times that tried men's souls" during the Revolutionary War. Paper, 50 cents; cloth, 80 cents.

Life of Thomas Paine. By CALVIN BLANCHARD. 12mo. Large type, with a fine steel portrait of Paine. Paper, 40 cents; cloth, 75 cents.

The Heathens of the Heath. By WM. MCDONNELL, author of Exeter Hall. A radical romance. Paper, $1.00; cloth, $1.50.

Career of Religious Ideas: Their Ultimate the Religion of Science. By HUDSON TUTTLE. An able examination of the sources of the past religions of the world. 140 pp. 12mo. Paper, 50 cents; cloth, 75 cents.

Thirty Discussions, Bible Stories, Essays and Lectures. By D. M. BENNETT. Embracing a variety of subjects, the whole making nearly seven hundred pages. The subjects treated can hardly prove uninteresting to the reader. Paper, 75 cents; cloth, $1.00.

The Humphrey-Bennett Discussion. A debate between Rev. G. H. HUMPHREY, Presbyterian clergyman, and D. M. BENNETT, Editor of "The Truth Seeker." Three propositions were discussed, viz: 1. Did unbelievers in the Bible do as much for American independence as believers in it? 2. Has Infidelity done as much as Christianity to promote learning and science? 3. Is there a stronger probability that Infidelity is true than that the Bible is divine? Bennett affirming; Humphrey denying. Cloth (550 pp.) $1.00.

The Burgess-Underwood Debate. Between Prof. O. A. BURGESS, President of the Northwestern Christian University at Indianapolis, Ind., and B. F. UNDERWOOD, of Boston, Mass. Held during four days at Aylmer, Ont., commencing June 29, 1875. Reported by John T. Hawke. FIRST PROPOSITION: "The Christian Religion, as set forth in the New Testament, is true in fact, and of divine origin." Burgess in the affirmative; Underwood in the negative. SECOND PROPOSITION: "The Bible is erroneous in many of its teachings regarding science and morals, and is of human origin." Underwood in the affirmative; Burgess in the negative. 12mo, 188 pp. Price, paper, 50 cents; cloth, 80 cents.

The Creed of Christendom: Its Foundation Contrasted with its Superstructure. By W. R. GREG, author of "Enigmas of Life," "Literary and Social Judgments," etc. F. W. Newman in speaking of this work in the "Fortnightly Review," says: "Some twelve years ago, in a London drawing-room, one of our most eminent men of science asked, 'Why do not the bishops answer Mr. Greg's Creed of Christendom? They are bound to answer it—if they can.' In the lifetime of the present generation the earliest work at all similar was that of Mr. Charles Hennell, which, in various respects, had great merit; but Mr. Greg, coming later, had the advantage of access to many able German researches, and his work continues the most complete on all sides; to it one may most confidently appeal when assailed by eager Christians with the current commonplaces of their warfare. Since bishops, deans, learned canons, and academic divines do not reply formally to so thorough, clear, and learned a treatise, which has been so long before the public, we have the best of proof attainable that this historical argument—occupying precisely the ground which English academicians have chosen as their own—is unanswerable." CONTENTS.—Introduction to third edition. Preface to the first edition. The Creed of Christendom. Chapter I.—Inspiration of the Scriptures. Chapter II.—Modern Modifications of the Doctrine of Inspiration. Chapter III.—Authorship and Authority of the Pentateuch, and the Old Testament Canon Generally. Chapter IV.—The Prophecies. Chapter V.—Theism of the Jews Impure and Progressive. Chapter VI.—Origin of the Gospels. Chapter VII.—Fidelity of the Gospel History—Nature and Limits. Chapter VIII.—Fidelity of the Gospel History continued—Matthew. Chapter IX.—Same subject continued—Mark and Luke. Chapter X.—Same subject continued—Gospel of John. Chapter XI.—Results of the Foregoing Criticism. Chapter XII.—The Limits of Apostolic Wisdom and Authority. Chapter XIII.—Miracle. Chapter XIV.—Resurrection of Jesus. Chapter XV.—Is Christianity a Revealed Religion. Chapter XVI.—Christian Eclecticism. Chapter XVII.—The Great Enigma. One volume, crown octavo, with complete index. The London edition sold for $5. Price of American edition, cloth, $1.50.

The Underwood-Marples Debate. Between B. F. UNDERWOOD, of Boston, and the Rev. JOHN MARPLES, of Toronto, Ont. Held at Napanee, Ont., in July, 1875. Two propositions discussed: FIRST: "That Atheism, Naturalism, and Modern Skepticism are Illogical and contrary to Reason." SECOND: "The Bible, consisting of the Old and New Testaments, evidences beyond all other books its divine origin." Marples affirms; Underwood denies. Reported in full, and revised by the debaters. 111 pp. Paper, 35 cents; cloth, 60 cents.

Interrogatories to Jehovah. By D. M. BENNETT. A series of close questions upon a great variety of subjects, from the origin of Deity and the universe, the creation of the earth, man, and woman, the flood, the Bible, the old patriarchs and prophets, down to the doctrinal points embraced by the Church. With a full-length portrait of Jehovah according to the Bible. A bold and radical work. 12mo, 250 pp. Paper, 50 cents; cloth, 75 cents.

The Pro and Con of Supernatural Religion; or, An Answer to the Question—Have we a Supernaturally Revealed, Infallibly Inspired, and Miracuously Attested Religion in the World? By E. E. GUILD, ex-Universalist clergyman; together with a sketch of the author. In four parts. Part I.—A brief history of the four great religions claiming a supernatural origin—Paganism, Judaism, Christianity, and Mohammedanism. Part II.—Review of the Arguments in favor of Supernatural Religion. Part III.—Statement of the argument against Supernatural Religion. Part IV.—Particular remarks on the supernatural origin of Christianity, and statement of the views of Rationalists on inspiration, revelation, and religion. Paper, 30 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

Beyond the Veil. A Spiritualistic work, said to be dictated by the spirit of PASCHAL BEVERLY RANDOLPH, aided by Emmanuel Swedenborg and others, through the mediumship of Mrs. Frances H. McDougall and Mrs. Luna Hutchinson. It gives minute and interesting descriptions of life in the spirit world—its location, intermediate state, landscape, habitation, food, clothing, industrial interests, etc. It contains a steel engraving of P. B. Randolph. A neat volume. Price, $1.50.

The Truth Seeker Collection of Forms, Hymns, and Recitations. Forms for Organizing Societies, Forms for Constitutions and By-Laws, for Funeral Services, Marriage Services, Naming of Infants, Obituary Notices, Epitaphs, Wills, etc. Also, nearly 525 Liberal and Spiritualistic Hymns, original and selected, for Public Meetings, Funerals, Social Gatherings, etc., etc. The whole supplemented by a fine selection of Recitations, comprising many of the finest poetical gems in the language. Over 580 pages, at the extremely low price of 75 cents, in cloth.

Chronicles of Simon Christianus. His Manifold and Wonderful Adventures in the Land of Cosmos. A New Scripture from an antique manuscript (evidently inspired) discovered by I. N. FIDEL, in conjunction with A. HOOK, Esq. Very amusing. Price 25 cents.

The Jamieson-Ditzler Debate. A debate between W. F. JAMIESON, of Chicago, Ill., and Rev. JACOB DITZLER, D. D., of Kentucky. Held in Kirksville, Mo., nine evenings, commencing May 20, 1878. Official report. Propositions debated: 1. The Old and New Testaments are the inspired revelations of God to man. Ditzler affirms; Jamieson denies. 2. The Bible is merely a human production abounding in contradictions and conflicting with science. Jamieson affirms; Ditzler denies. 3. Infidelity and modern Materialism tend to immorality and the injury of society. Ditzler affirms; Jamieson denies. 4. The Christian religion and the Bible tend to immorality and the injury of society. Jamieson affirms; Ditzler denies. Price, paper, 50 cents; cloth, 75 cents.

Proceedings and Addresses at the Freethinkers' Convention, held at Watkins, N. Y., August 22, 23, 24, and 25, 1878. A volume of 400 pages, containing the speeches made during the four days' session by Dr. T. L. Brown, Prof. A. L. Rawson, Elder F. W. Evans, Elder G. A. Lomas, Prof. J. H. W. Toohey, Dr. J. M. Peebles, Dr. T. B. Taylor, Hon. George W. Julian, James Parton, T. B. Wakeman, Elizur Wright, T. C. Leland, C. D. B. Mills, Mrs. L. N. Colman, Mrs. P. R. Lawrence, Ella E. Gibson, Mrs. Mary E. Tilotson, Mrs. Clara Neyman, Mrs. Augusta Cooper Bristol, W. E. Copeland, Horace Seaver, John W. Truesdell, W. S. Bell, and several other persons. Price, cloth, $1.25.

Truth Seeker Tracts. Bound Volumes I., II., III., IV., and V. These volumes, containing over 520 pages each, are made up of over one hundred Truth Seeker Tracts, as given on the following pages, with some additional kinds. They embrace a variety of subjects by different authors, written in a terse, trenchant, and spicy style. They are offered at the extremely low price of 60 cents per volume in paper covers, and $1.00 in cloth; or 50 cents each in paper, and 75 cents each in cloth if the whole set is taken.

Sepher Toldoth Jeschu; or, the Book of the Generation of Jesus. First English translation of the ancient Jewish story of Jesus, who was born at Bethlehem about the year 106 B. C., being the son of a betrothed maiden named Miriam (Mary) by Joseph Pandera. By the power of a charm stolen from the Holy of Holies he cured lepers, raised the dead, and wrought other miracles. Wherefore he was arrested by the elders of Jerusalem, scourged, crowned with thorns, and, by order of the Sanhedrim, stoned to death and hanged on the day before the Passover and the Sabbath, in the reign of Queen Alexandra, about the year 75 B. C. Death of Simon Kepha on a tower in the city of the Nazarenes about 39 B.C. How and why the Romans changed "Kepha" to "Petros." Startling evidence that Paul flourished before the middle of the first century B. C., contemporary with the aforesaid Kepha. Price, 20 cents.

The Last Will and Testament of Jean Meslier, curate of a Romish church in France in the eighteenth century.

whose views upon theology were not published until after his death, and are now for the first time presented in English. Very radical and able. Price, 25 cents.

Pocket Theology. By VOLTAIRE. Translated by Miss Ellen Carroll. Being a definition of current terms in theology; written in the distinguished author's raciest and happiest style. From a rare old manuscript in the library at Paris, and never before translated into English. Price, paper, 30 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

The Influence of Christianity Upon Civilization. By B. F. UNDERWOOD. Revised edition. One of the most able treatises upon the subject ever written. Price, 25 cents.

Christianity and Materialism. By B. F. UNDERWOOD. Revised edition. In this treatise the two systems are fairly and ably examined from a historical standpoint. Price, 15 cents.

What Liberalism Offers in the Place of Christianity. By B. F. UNDERWOOD. Price, paper, 10 cents.

Amberley's Life of Jesus: His Character and Doctrine. A chapter from "The Analysis of Religious Belief." By VISCOUNT AMBERLEY. Price, cloth, 60 cents; paper, 35 cents

The Resurrection of Jesus. By W. S. BELL. Revised and enlarged edition. Price, 25 cents.

Religion Not History. An able examination of the morals and theology of the teachings of the New Testament. By W. F. NEWMAN, Emeritus Professor of University College, London. From the London edition. Price, 25 cents.

The Bennett-Teed Discussion. Between D. M. BENNETT, Editor of "The Truth Seeker," and CYRUS ROMULUS R. TEED, of Moravia, N. Y. Proposition discussed: "Jesus Christ is not only divine, but is the Lord God, creator of heaven and earth." Teed affirming; Bennett denying. Paper, 30 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

Blakeman's Two Hundred Poetical Riddles. (For children and youth.) Embracing a great variety of subjects. This work is new and interesting, and affords a great amount of amusement in the family circle, as well as in gatherings of children and older people. Price, 20 cents.

Six Lectures on Astronomy. By Prof. RICHARD A PROCTOR. Delivered at Steinway Hall, New York, in the winter of 1875–76. 1. Growth of Worlds; 2. Life and Death of Worlds; 3. Other Worlds than Ours; 4. Other Suns than Ours; 5. The Great Mysteries of the Universe; 6. Religion and Astronomy. 65 pp. Paper, 20 cents.

Truth Seeker Leaflets, of two pages each. Thirty-two in number; 4 cents per dozen; 8 cents for the set; 25 cents per hundred; $2.00 per thousand.

The Adventures of Elder Triptolemus Tub. Comprises important and startling disclosures concerning hell, its magnitude, morals, employments, climate, etc. By Rev. GEORGE ROGERS. A rich, interesting little work. Paper, 15 cents.

The Darwins. By Mrs. E. D. SLENKER. Author of "Studying the Bible," "John's Way," and numerous essays. This is a domestic radical romance of a simple character, and goes directly to the point at issue. It is written in the well-known author's happiest style, with her usual plain spokenness and more than usual effectiveness. Price, cloth, 75 cents; paper, 50 cents.

John's Way. A pleasing, domestic, radical story, of a suggestive, instructive character. By Mrs. E. D. SLENKER. Price. 15 cents.

Anthony Comstock: His Career of Cruelty and Crime. A chapter from the "Champions of the Church." By D. M. BENNETT. Price, 25 cents.

Question Settled: A Careful Comparison of Biblical and Modern Spiritualism. By MOSES HULL. The author's aim—faithfully to compare the Bible with modern phenomena and philosophy—has been ably accomplished. The adaptation of Spiritualism to the wants of humanity; its moral tendency; the Bible doctrine of angel ministry; the spiritual nature of man, and the objections offered to Spiritualism, are all considered in the light of nature, history, reason, and common sense, and expressed clearly and forcibly. Cloth, $1.00.

Which: Spiritualism or Christianity? A friendly correspondence between MOSES HULL, Spiritualist, and W. F. PARKER, Christian. Rev. Mr. Parker is one of the most eloquent preachers and debaters in the West, and has presented his side of the question at issue with more than ordinary acumen, thus enabling Mr. Hull to meet the opposition to Spiritualism in its strongest form. The letters are friendly, logical, witty, and caustic. They will not only instruct but thoroughly amuse those who read them. Price, paper, 50 cents; cloth, 75 cents.

Contrast: Evangelicalism and Spiritualism Compared. This new work, by Mr. HULL, is designed as a companion to the "Question Settled." It is a most able production, and is a perfect storehouse of facts for those who wish to defend Spiritualism, or find arguments against the assumptions of orthodoxy. The following are some of the subjects treated of: What is Spiritualism? Comparative Evidence of the Bible and Spiritualism; Teachings of the Bible and Spiritualism; The Mission of Spiritualism; The Cui Bono of Spiritualism; Minor Questions; Acts of the Apostles and Spiritualism; More of the Same; What is Evangelicalism? Price, cloth, $1.00.

The General Judgment; or, Great Overturning. By MOSES HULL. Paper, 10 cents.

Mattie's Offering. A collection of original songs, as sung by MATTIE SAWYER; together with selections from the best authors. Paper covers, 25 cents; cloth, 35 cents.

Our Financial Distress: Its Cause. Can it be Cured? How? By MOSES HULL. A complete digest of the money question, and should be read by all. Price, 15 cents.

That Terrible Question. By MOSES HULL. This radical little work on love and marriage is well calculated to provoke thought on these important subjects. Several thousand copies have already been sold. Paper, 10 cents.

Eight Scientific Tracts. I. Hereditary Transmission; 2. Evolution; 3. Darwinism; 4. Literature of the Insane; 5. The Responsibility of Sex; 6. Graduated Atmospheres; 7. Death; 8. How do Marsupials Propagate? 125 pp. Paper, 20 cents.

The New Dispensation; or, The Heavenly Kingdom. By D. W. HULL. This pamphlet is an original Scriptural argument, showing that the word "Christ" means mediumship, and that the ancient disciples were no more nor less than believers in and practicers of mediumship. Price 25 cents.

The Hereafter: A Scientific, Phenomenal, and Biblical Demonstration of a Future Life. By D. W. HULL. In this book Mr. Hull discusses the question of the Origin of the Physical and Spiritual Man, making a concise and conclusive scientific argument in favor of the development theory Cloth, 75 cts.

Gottlieb, His Life. A Romance of Earth, Heaven, and Hell. Showing the power of good over evil and the superiority of love to fear as a governing element and guide through life. By the exercise of these potent qualities Gottlieb transforms Hell into Heaven, and the Devil, whom he has converted, becomes his missionary. He converts Jesus; and finally the Almighty himself acknowledges that it is better to rule by love than fear. It gives vivid pictures of life in the "upper and lower houses," and portrays the ruler of each with the faithfulness of one versed in Scripture and mythology. Beautifully written, by a well-known poet, Price 25 cents.

Voltaire in Exile. Translated from the French of M. GASTINEAU. Published on the Centenary of Voltaire's death. Being memoirs of his life hitherto unpublished, even in French, and giving with great minuteness of detail the inner and till now unknown phase of the social life of the great historian and philosopher. His friendship with Frederick of Prussia, and his life as a French diplomat at the Prussian court, are placed in a new light; and the service he rendered France is given from his own pen. His connection with the "divine Emilie" is truthfully stated, ending with the death of the famous countess. Altogether it shows the man as he was better than any other book in the English language; and to the impartial student of the past it will be invaluable. Paper, 75 cents; cloth, $1.00.

Twelve Tracts. By B. F. UNDERWOOD. 120 pp. Paper, 20 cents.

Jesus Christ: His Life, Miracles, Deity, Teachings, and Imperfections. By W. S. BELL. A chapter from "The Champions of the Church." Paper, 15 cents.

THE "HOLY CROSS" SERIES.

No. 1. The Priest in Absolution. This work is an abstract from the larger volume published in England in 1876, and which, in consequence of the great plainness, and in fact indecency, of language, was suppressed by the legal authorities. The abstract is also a criticism and denunciation of the practice of the Confessional, and is designed, with the "Holy Cross" series in its entirety, to show up the censurable and abominable conduct of the Romish Church in its true light. Paper, 25 cents.

No. 2. The Mother of Harlots; or, Popery Dissected. Being an inside view of the enormities of the Romish Church in Europe and America, and taken from authentic sources. Paper, 50 cents; cloth, 75 cents.

No. 3. The Popes and their Doings; or, the Vicars of Christ and Vicegerents of God. A succinct history of some of the blackest criminals the earth has ever borne. Paper, 50 cents; cloth, 75 cents.

No. 4. Facts About the Jesuits. A succinct history of these pious villains from Loyola down to the present date. Paper, 50 cents; cloth, 75 cents.

No. 5. The Story of the Crusades; or, the Shame of History. A terse and startling narrative of the foolhardy, fanatical, and depopulating expeditions by which it is estimated the blood of thirty million human beings was made to redden the earth. Paper, 50 cents; cloth, 75 cents.

No. 6. The Atrocities of the Inquisition. Illustrated. The blackest disgrace of humanity, by which, according to Victor Hugo, the great French writer, more than five millions of human beings were put to death in the most excruciating torture, in dungeons, on the rack, in the death-chamber, and at the stake in fire. Paper, 50 cents; cloth, 75 cents.

No. 7. Horrible Persecutions by the Church. Including the conduct of the Church towards the Moors of Spain, the Vaudois, the Albigenses, the Waldenses, the Huguenots, the Quakers, and others, by which millions of unfortunate men and women were inhumanly put to death. Illustrated. Paper, 50 cents; cloth, 75.

THE

Gods and Religions

OF

Ancient and Modern Times.

BY D. M. BENNETT,

Editor of "The Truth Seeker," Author of the "World's Sages, Thinkers, and Reformers," "The Champions of the Church," "Behind the Bars," "Humphrey-Bennett Discussion," etc., etc

WRITTEN WHILE IN PRISON,

Serving out a sentence of thirteen months in the Albany Penitentiary, nominally for sending through the United States mail a pamphlet by E. H. Heywood on the subject of "Marriage and the Relations of the Sexes," but really for being an Infidel editor and publisher."

IN TWO LARGE OCTAVO VOLUMES.

CONTENTS OF VOLUME I.

Gods of the Hindoos, Brahmanic Gods, Gods of Persia and Chaldea, Gods of Egypt, Gods of Greece and Rome, Gods of the Norsemen, Gods of African Tribes and other Savages, Gods of the Semitic Races, the Bible. Each God is treated in a biographical manner, as though a real person.

Among the Gods worshiped in our own country and time are Jehovah, the Devil, the Holy Ghost, the Virgin Mary, and the Bible—a god of Protestants. Over 200 pages are devoted to an examination of the latter.

CONTENTS OF VOLUME II.

Primitive Religion, Fetichism, Mythology, Polytheism, and Idolatry; Phallism; the Religion of India, Persia, Chaldea, China, Babylonia, Assyria, Egypt, Thibet, Phœnicia and Carthagenia, Greece, Rome, of the Druids, Scandinavians, Gauls, and Ancient Germans. Judaism, Mohammedanism, and Christianity are treated at length, the criticism of the latter occupying nearly 250 pages. The entire work presents fuller information on the Gods and Religions of the world than any single work heretofore published.

Price, in cloth, $3 per volume, or the two for $5; in leather, red edges, $4 per volume, or the two for $7; in morocco and gilt edges, $4.50 per volume, or the two for $8. Sent by mail or express. Address D. M. BENNETT,

AMERICAN HEALTH PRIMERS.

Edited by W. W. KEEN, M. D.,

Fellow of the College of Physicians of Philadelphia; Surgeon to St. Mary's Hospital, etc.

This series of American Health Primers is prepared to diffuse as widely and cheaply as possible, among all classes, a knowledge of the elementary facts of Preventive Medicine, and the bearings and applications of the latest and best researches in every branch of Medical and Hygienic Science. They are not intended (save incidentally) to assist in curing disease, but to teach people how to take care of themselves, their children, pupils, employees, etc.

They are written from an American standpoint, with especial reference to our Climate, Sanitary Legislation, and Modes of Life; and in these respects we differ materially from other nations.

The subjects selected are of vital and practical importance in every-day life, and are treated in as popular a style as is consistent with their nature. Each volume, when the subject calls for it, is fully illustrated, so that the text may be clearly and readily understood by any one heretofore entirely ignorant of the structure and functions of the body. The object being to furnish the general or unscientific reader, in a compact form and at a low price, reliable guides for the prevention of disease and the preservation of both body and mind in a healthy state.

The authors have been selected with great care, and on account of special fitness, each for his subject, by reason of its previous careful study, either privately or as public teachers.

Dr. Keen has supervised the Series, as Editor; but is not responsible for the statements or opinions of the individual authors.

I. Hearing, and How to Keep It. With Illustrations. By CHAS. H. BURNETT, M. D., of Philadelphia, Consulting Aurist to the Pennsylvania Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, Aurist to the Presbyterian Hospital, etc.

MARTIN'S

ATLAS OF OBSTETRICS AND GYNÆCOLOGY.

Translated and Edited from the Second German Edition, with Additions, by

FANCOURT BARNES, M.D., M.R.C.P.,

Physician to the British Lying-in Hospital; Assistant Physician to the Royal Maternity Charity of London, etc.

This important work consists of upwards of 98 full-page plates, containing over 400 finely lithographed figures, some of which are colored. With full letter-press references to and explanations of each figure; forming a thick quarto volume, bound

In Heavy Beveled Boards, Price $12.00.

The numerous illustrated works on Midwifery deal, with few exceptions, besides illustrations of the pelvis and the female genital organs in the normal state, almost exclusively with the development of the ovum and the uterus during pregnancy, the positions of the fœtus, the obstetric instruments, and the operative manœuvres required in Obstetrics. Not only are the illustrations of the fœtal positions and of the obstetric operations most frequently diagramatic, and obtained by placing the dummy in various positions in a phantom or pelvis, but the works themselves afford an insufficient insight into those conditions necessary to complete the knowledge of the gynæcologist. Midwifery must be considered in its natural relation to the conditions of the other female sexual functions, and to the various physiological and pathological changes which occur in the sexual organs, and consequently in its relation to gynæcology. Thus the scientific methods of study require it, and rebel more and more against the continued reign of the obstetric method. The practice which had long ago forced itself upon the obstetrician, also required a knowledge of the so-called diseases of women.

On these grounds, then, that the pathological and physiological conditions of the sexual organs should be represented in the various phases of their functions, this atlas of obstetrics has been prepared. The exhibition of enlarged illustrations or of preparations during lectures is useful and even indispensable, but it is insufficient. A mere passing glance at a diagram during a lecture leaves on the mind of the student no fixed impression. But such a collection of illustrations is also of great value to the practicing physician, who does not see gynæcological cases every day, and who seldom has the opportunity to study the organic changes seen at post-mortem examinations. One look at an exact and faithful drawing presents the anatomical condition of the parts more clearly to his mind than far-fetched deductions for the elaboration of which he frequently has no time. It moreover starts fresh ideas for future diagnosis and treatment of doubtful individual cases.

An atlas of this kind becomes, therefore, indispensable to the student of Midwifery, and all important to the practicing physician.

The illustrations have been prepared by the celebrated German artist, Herr A. Schultze, who merits much praise for the great care he has taken in their execution, and for the successful manner in which they have been produced.

BOERICKE & TAFEL'S

HOMŒOPATHIC PUBLICATIONS.

ALLEN, DR. T. F. The Encyclopedia of Pure Materia Medica; a Record of the Positive Effects of Drugs upon the Healthy Human Organism. With contributions from Dr. Richard Hughes, of England; Dr. C. Hering, of Philadelphia; Dr. Carroll Dunham, of New York; Dr. Adolph Lippe, of Philadelphia, and others. X volumes. Price bound in cloth, $60.00; in half morocco or sheep, . . . $70 00

This is the most complete and extensive work on Materia Medica ever attempted in the history of medicine—a work to which the homœopathic practitioner may turn with the certainty of finding the whole pathogenetic record of any remedy ever used in homœopathy, the record of which being published either in bookform or in journals. The volumes average about 640 pages each. The work is now completed, and an index or symptom register to the Encyclopedia will be issued within a short time.

ALLEN AND NORTON. Ophthalmic Therapeutics, by Timothy F. Allen, M.D., Surgeon to the New York Ophthalmic Hospital, Professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics in the New York Homœopathic Medical College, and Geo. S. Norton, M.D., Surgeon to the New York Ophthalmic Hospital, and Ophthalmic and Aural Surgeon to the Homœopathic Hospital on Ward's Island. 269 pages, 8vo. Cloth, . . $2.00

. . . "This work contrasts favorably with many similar treatises. It has not been written by inexperienced practitioners, but of men who write of that which they have seen—of that which they have accomplished. . . . It is, in short, a useful book, and as such we commend it to the study of our readers."—Monthly Hom. Review.

ANGELL, DR. H. C. A Treatise on Diseases of the Eye; for the Use of Students and Practitioners. By Henry C. Angell, M.D., Professor of Ophthalmology in the Boston University School of Medicine, etc., etc. Fifth edition, enlarged and illustrated. 343 pages. 12mo. Cloth, ... $3 00

The fifth edition of this standard work has just been issued from the press, and shows that the whole work has been thoroughly revised and brought up to the latest dates in ophthalmology. Exquisite clear photographic illustrations have been added, and an exposition given of the dioptric or metric system, as applied to lenses for spectacles.

BAEHR, DR. B. The Science of Therapeutics according to the Principles of Homœopathy. Translated and enriched with numerous additions from Kafka and other sources, by C. J. HEMPEL, M.D. Two volumes. 1387 pages, ... $9 00

. . . "In short Dr. Baehr has presented us with the results of his observations at the bedside rather than of his researches in the study. It is this which renders his work valuable, and which at the same time accounts for his occasional imperfections. We know of no work of the kind in homœopathic literature where the suggestions for the choice of medicines are given in a fresher or clearer manner, or in one better calculated to interest and inform the practitioner. We have only to add that the two volumes are highly creditable to the publishers. The type is good, the paper good, and the binding excellent."—Monthly Homœopathic Review.

This little book had a very large sale, and but few physicians' offices will be found without it. The work was, without exception, very highly commended by the homœopathic press.

BERJEAU, J. PH. The Homœopathic Treatment of Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Spermatorrhœa, and Urinary Diseases. Revised, with numerous additions, by J. H. P. FROST, M.D. 256 pages. 12mo. Cloth, ... $1 50

"This work is unmistakably the production of a practical man. It is short, pithy, and contains a vast deal of sound practical instruction. The diseases are briefly described; the directions for treatment are succinct and summary. It is a book which might with profit be consulted by all practitioners of homœopathy."—North American Journal.

BREYFOGLE, DR. W. L. Epitome of Homœopathic Medicines. 383 pages, ... $1 25
Interleaved with writing paper. Half morocco, ... $2 25

We quote from the author's preface:

"It has been my aim, throughout, to arrange in as concise form as possible, the leading symptoms of all well-established provings. To accomplish this, I have compared Lippe's Mat. Med.; the Symptomen-Codex; Jahr's Epitome; Bœnninghausen's Therapeutic Pocket-Book, and Hale's New Remedies."

BRYANT, DR. J. A Pocket Manual, or Repertory of Homœopathic Medicine, Alphabetically and Nosologically arranged, which may be used as the Physicians' Vade-mecum, the Travellers' Medical Companion, or the Family Physician. Containing the Principal Remedies for the most important Diseases; Symptoms, Sensations, Characteristics of Diseases, etc.; with the Principal Pathogenetic Effects of the Medicines on the most important Organs and Functions of the Body, together with Diagnosis, Explanation of Technical Terms, Directions for the selection and Exhibition of Remedies, Rules of Diet, etc. Compiled from the best Homœopathic authorities. BUTLER, JOHN. A Text-Book of Electro-Therapeutics and Electro-Surgery, for the Use of Students and General Practitioners. By John Butler, M.D., L.R.C.P.E., L.R.C.S.I., etc., etc. Second edition, revised and enlarged. 350 pages. 8vo. Cloth, $3 00

"Butler's work gives with exceptional thoroughness all details of the latest researches on Electricity, which powerful agent has a great future, and rightly demands our most earnest consideration. But Homœopathia especially must hail with delight the advent from out the ranks of her apostles of a writer of John Butler's ability. His book will also find a large circle of non-homœopathic readers, since it does not conflict with the tenets of any therapeutic sect, and particular care has been bestowed on the technical part of electro-therapeia."—Homœopathische Rundschau.

DAKE, DR. WM. C. Pathology and Treatment of Diphtheria. By Wm. C. Dake, M.D., of Nashville, Tenn. 55 pages. 8vo. Paper, 50 cts.

This interesting monograph was enlarged from a paper read at the Third Annual Meeting of the Homœopathic Society of Tennessee, held at Memphis, September 19, 1877.

It gives a report of one hundred and seventy-six cases treated during a period of eleven months. It well repays a careful perusal.

DUNHAM, CARROLL, A.M., M.D. Homœopathy the Science of Therapeutics. A collection of papers elucidating and illustrating the principles of homœopathy. 529 pages. 8vo. Cloth, . . $3 00
Half morocco, ... $4 00

"After reading this work no one will attempt to justify the practice of alternation of remedies. It is simply the lazy man's expedient to escape close thinking or to cover his ignorance. The one remedy alone can be accurate and scientific; a second or third only complicates and spoils the case, and will inevitably ruin a good reputation. But to come to more practical matters, more than one-half of this volume is devoted to a careful analysis of various drug-provings. It teaches us Materia Medica after a new fashion, so that a fool can understand, not only the full measure of usefulness, but also the limitations which surround the drug. . . . We ought to give an illustration of his method of analysis, but space forbids. We can only urge the thoughtful and studious to obtain the book, which they will esteem as second only to the Organon in its philosophy and learning."—The American Homœopathist.

DUNHAM, CARROLL, A.M., M.D. Lectures on Materia Medica.
858 pages. 8vo. Cloth, ... $5 00
Half morocco, ... $6 00

. . . "Vol. I is adorned with a most perfect likeness of Dr. Dunham, upon which stranger and friend will gaze with pleasure. To one skilled in the science of physiognomy there will be seen the unmistakable impress of the great soul that looked so long and steadfastly out of its fair windows. But our readers will be chiefly concerned with the contents of these two books. They are even better than their embellishments. They are chiefly such lectures on Materia Medica as Dr. Dunham alone knew how to write. They are preceded quite naturally by introductory lectures, which he was accustomed to deliver to his classes on general therapeutics, on rules which should guide us in studying drugs, and on the therapeutic law. At the close of Vol. II we have several papers of great interest, but the most important fact of all is that we have here over fifty of our leading remedies presented in a method which belonged peculiarly to the author, as one of the most successful teachers our school has yet produced. . . . Blessed will be the library they adorn, and wise the man or woman into whose mind their light shall shine."—Cincinnati Medical Advance.

EGGERT, DR. W. The Homœopathic Therapeutics of Uterine and Vaginal Discharges. 543 pages. 8vo. Half morocco, $3 50

The author brought here together in an admirable and comprehensive arrangement everything published to date on the subject in the whole homœopathic literature, besides embodying his own abundant personal experience. The contents, divided into eight parts, are arranged as follows:

PART I. Treats on Menstruation and Dysmenorrhœa; PART II. Menorrhagia; PART III. Amenorrhœa; PART IV. Abortion and Miscarriage; PART V.

Metrorrhagia; PART VI. Fluor albus; PART VII. Lochia; and PART VIII. General Concomitants. No work as complete as this, on the subject, was ever before attempted, and we feel assured that it will meet with great favor by the profession.

"The book is a counterpart of Bell on Diarrhœa, and Dunham on Whooping-cough. Synthetics, Diagnosis and Pathology are left out as not coming within the scope of the work. The author in his preface says: Remedies and their symptoms are left out, and the symptoms and their remedies have received sole attention—that is what the busy practitioner wants. The work is one of the essentials in a library."—American Observer.

"A most exhaustive treatise, admirably arranged, covering all that is known of therapeutics in this important department."—Homœopathic Times.

GUERNSEY, DR. H. N. The Application of the Principles and Practice of Homœopathy to Obstetrics and the Disorders Peculiar to Women and Young Children. By HENRY N. GUERNSEY, M.D., Professor of Obstetrics and Diseases of Women and Children in the Homœopathic Medical College of Pennsylvania, etc., etc. With numerous Illustrations. Third edition, revised, enlarged, and greatly improved. 1004 pages. 8vo. Half morocco, ... $8 00

This standard work, with the numerous improvements and additions, is the most complete and comprehensible work on the subject in the English language. Of the previous editions, almost four thousand copies are in the hands of the profession, and of this third edition a goodly number have already been taken up. There are few other professional works that can boast of a like popularity, and with all new improvements and experiences diligently collected and faithfully incorporated into each successive edition, this favorite work will retain its hold on the high esteem it is held in by the profession, for years to come. It is superfluous to add that it was and is used from its first appearance as a text-book at the homœopathic colleges.

GUERNSEY, DR. E. Homœopathic Domestic Practice. With Full Descriptions to the Dose to each single Case. Containing also Chapters on Anatomy, Physiology, Hygiene, and an abridged Materia Medica. Tenth enlarged, revised, and improved edition. 653 pages. Half leather, ... $2 50

GUERNSEY, DR. W. E. The Traveller's Medical Repertory and Family Adviser for the Homœopathic Treatment of Acute Diseases. 36 pages. Cloth, ... 30 cts.

This little work has been arranged with a view to represent in as compact a manner as possible all the diseases—or rather disorders—which the non-professional would attempt to prescribe for, it being intended only for the treatment of simple or acute diseases, or to allay the suffering in maladies of a more serious nature until a homœopathic practitioner can be summoned.

HAHNEMANN, DR. S. The Lesser Writings of. Collected and Translated by R. E. DUDGEON, M.D. With a Preface and Notes by E. MARCY, M.D. With a Steel Engraving of Hahnemann from the statue of Steinhauser. 784 pages. Half bound, ... $3 00

This valuable work contains a large number of Essays, of great interest to laymen as well as medical men, upon Diet, the Prevention of Diseases, Ventilation of Dwellings, etc. As many of these papers were written before the discovery of the homœopathic theory of cure, the reader will be enabled to peruse in this volume the ideas of a gigantic intellect when directed to subjects of general and practical interest.

HAHNEMANN, DR. S. Organon of the Art of Healing. By SAMUEL HAHNEMANN. Aude Sapere. Fifth American edition, translated from the Fifth German edition, by C. WESSELHŒFT, M.D. 244 pages. 8vo. Cloth, ... $1 75

This fifth edition of "Hahnemann Organon" has a history. So many complaints were made again and again of the incorrectness and cumbersome style of former and existing editions to the publishers, that, yielding to the pressure, they promised to destroy the plates of the fourth edition, and to bring out an entire re-translation in 1876, the Centennial year. After due consideration, and on the warm recommendation of Dr. Constantine Hering and others, the task of making this re-translation was confided to Dr. C. Wesselhœft, and the result of years of labor is now before the profession, who will be best able themselves to judge how well he succeeded in acquitting himself of the difficult task.

"To insure a correct rendition of the text of the author, they (the publishers) selected as his translator Dr. Conrad Wesselhœft, of Boston, an educated physician in every respect, and from his youth up perfectly familiar with the English and German languages, than whom no better selection could have been made." "That he has made, as he himself declares, 'an entirely new and independent translation of the whole work,' a careful comparison of the various paragraphs, notes, etc., with those contained in previous editions, gives abundant evidence; and while he has, so far as was possible, adhered strictly to the letter of Hahnemann's text, he has at the same time given a pleasantly flowing rendition that avoids the harshness of a strictly literal translation."—Hahnemannian Monthly.

Vol. I. Special Symptomatology. With new Botanical and Pharmacological Notes. 672 pages. Cloth, ... $5 00

Vol. II. Special Therapeutics. With Illustrative Clinical Cases. 900 pages. Second enlarged edition. Cloth, ... $5 00

N. B.—Same in half morocco, per Volume, ... $6 00

"Dr. Hale's work on New Remedies is one both well known and much appreciated on this side of the Atlantic. For many medicines of considerable value we are indebted to his researches. In the present edition, the symptoms produced by the drug investigated, and those which they have been observed to cure, are separated from the clinical observations, by which the former have been confirmed. That this volume contains a very large amount of invaluable information is incontestable, and that every effort has been made to secure both fulness of detail and accuracy of statement, is apparent throughout. For these reasons we can confidently commend Dr. Hale's fourth edition of his well-known work on the New Remedies to our homœopathic colleagues."—Monthly Homœopathic Review.

"We do not hesitate to say that by these publications Dr. Hale rendered an inestimable service to homœopathy, and thereby to the art of medicine. 'The school of Hahnemann in every country owes him hearty thanks for all this; and allopathy is beginning to share our gain.' The author is given credit for having in this fourth edition corrected the mistake for which the third one had been taxed rather severely, by restoring in Vol. II the 'special therapeutics,' instead of the 'characteristics' of the third edition."—British Journal of Homœopathy.

HALE, DR. E. M. The Medical, Surgical, and Hygienic Treatment of Diseases of Women, especially those causing Sterility, the Disorders and Accidents of Pregnancy, and Painful and Difficult Labor. By EDWIN M. HALE, M.D., Professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics in the Chicago Homœopathic College, etc., etc. Second enlarged edition. 378 pages. 8vo. Cloth, . . . $2 50

"This new work embodies the observations and experience of the author during twenty-five years of active and extensive practice, and is designed to supplement rather than supersede kindred works. The arrangement of the subjects treated is methodical and convenient; the introduction containing an article inserted by permission of Dr. Jackson, of Chicago, the author upon the ovular and ovulation theory of menstruation, which contains all the observations of practical importance known on this subject to date. The diseases causing sterility are fully described, and the medical, surgical, and hygienic treatment pointed out. The more generally employed medicines are enumerated, but their special or specific indications are unfortunately omitted. The general practitioner will find a great many valuable things for his daily rounds, and cannot afford to do without the book. The great reputation and ability of the author are sufficient to recommend the work, and to guarantee an appreciative reception and large sale."—Hahnemannian Monthly.

HAYWARD, DR. JOHN W. Taking Cold (the Cause of half our Diseases): Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure; its frequency as a Cause of other Disease, and the Diseases of which it is the Cause, with their Diagnosis and Treatment. Fifth edition, enlarged and improved. London, 1875. 188 pages. 18mo. Cloth, ... 50 cts.

We quote from the author's preface:

"This Essay was originally published under the conviction that, by attention to the directions it contains, persons may not only very frequently avoid taking cold, but may themselves frequently cure a cold at the onset, and thereby prevent the development of many of those serious diseases that would otherwise follow. The favorable reception it has met with is a sufficient testimony that it has been found useful."

HELMUTH, DR. W. T. A System of Surgery. Illustrated with 568 Engravings on Wood. By WM. TOD HELMUTH, M.D. Third edition. 1000 pages. Sheep, ... $8 50

This third edition of Dr. Helmuth's great work is already in appearance a great improvement over the old edition, it being well printed on fine paper, and well bound. By increasing the size of the page, decreasing the size of type, and setting up solid, fully one-half more printed matter is given than in the previous edition, albeit there are over 200 pages less. And while the old edition, bound in sheep, was sold at $11.50 by its publishers, this improved third edition is now furnished at $3 less, or for $8.50. The author brought the work fully up to date, and for an enumeration of some of the more important improvements, we cannot do better than to refer to Dr. Helmuth's own Preface.

HEMPEL, DR. C. H. Complete Repertory of the Homœopathic Materia Medica. 1224 pages, ... $6 00

The object of this work is simply to make the finding of any symptom or group of symptoms, which a physician may be called upon to treat, a matter of perfect certainty; provided always such may exist among the results of our physiological provings. The classification of the symptoms which has been adopted is more complete, and at the same time more simple and practical, than anything of the kind ever published in our language.

HERING, DR. C. Condensed Materia Medica. Second edition. More condensed, revised, enlarged, and improved, . . . $7 00

In February, 1877, we were able to announce the completion of Hering's Condensed Materia Medica. The work, as was to be expected, was bought up with avidity by the profession, and already in the Fall of 1878 the author set to work perfecting a second and improved edition. By still more condensing many of the remedies, a number of new ones could be added without much increasing the size and the price of the work. This new edition is now ready for the profession, and will be the standard work par excellence for the practitioner's daily reference.

The first volume, containing the symptomatology, gives the complete pathogenesis of two hundred and eighty-seven remedies, besides a large number of new remedies are added by Dr. Hempel, in the appendix. The second volume contains an admirably arranged Repertory. Each chapter is accompanied by copious clinical remarks and the concomitant symptoms of the chief remedies for the malady treated of, thus imparting a mass of information, rendering the work indispensable to every student and practitioner of medicine.

With Personal Observations regarding the truly reliable and practically verified Curative Indications in actual cases of disease. Translated, with Notes and New Remedies, by C. J. HEMPEL, M.D. 546 pages, ... $3 00

"With this characteristically long title, the veteran and indefatigable Jahr gives us another volume of homœopathics. Besides the explanation of its purport contained in the title itself, the author's preface still further sets forth its distinctive aim. It is intended, he says, as a 'guide to beginners, where I only indicate the most important and decisive points for the selection of a remedy, and where I do not offer anything but what my own individual experience, during a practice of forty years, has enabled me to verify as absolutely decisive in choosing the proper remedy.' The reader will easily comprehend that, in carrying out this plan, I had rigidly to exclude all cases concerning which I had no experience of my own to offer. . . . . We are bound to say that the book itself is agreeable, chatty, and full of practical observation. It may be read straight through with interest, and referred to in the treatment of particular cases with advantage."—British Journal of Homœopathy.

JAHR, DR. G. H. G. Clinical Guide, or Pocket Repertory for the Treatment of Acute and Chronic Diseases.. Translated by C. J. HEMPEL, M.D. Second American revised and enlarged edition. From the third German edition, enriched by the addition of the New Remedies. By S. LILIENTHAL, M.D. 624 pages. 12mo. Half morocco, ... $2 50

"To those of our readers who have used the old edition, nothing need be said to induce them to procure a copy of the new. To others, however, we feel free to state that as a volume of ready reference to lie on the office desk, or be used at the bedside, it is very valuable, and will save many tedious and distracting hunts through the symptomen codex. The typographical execution of the book is excellent."—Hahnemannian Monthly.

JAHR, DR. G. H. G. The Homœopathic Treatment of Diseases of Females and Infants at the Breast. Translated from the French by C. J. HEMPEL, M.D. 422 pages. Half leather, . . . $2 00

This work deserves the most careful attention on the part of homœopathic practitioners. The diseases to which the female organism is subject are described with the most minute correctness, and the treatment is likewise indicated with a care that would seem to defy criticism. No one can fail to study this work but with profit and pleasure.

JAHR, DR. G. H. G. Diseases of the Skin; or, Alphabetical Repertory of the Skin Symptoms, and External Alterations of Substance, together with the Morbid Phenomena observed in the Glandular, Osseous, Mucous, and Circulatory Symptoms. Arranged with Pathological Remarks on Diseases of the Skin. Edited by C. J. HEMPEL, M.D. 515 pages. 12mo. Cloth, ... $1 50

JAHR, DR. G. H. G. The Venereal Diseases, their Pathological Nature, Correct Diagnosis, and Homœopathic Treatment. Prepared in accordance with the author's own, as well as with the experience of other physicians, and accompanied with critical discussions. Translated, with numerous and important additions, from the works of other authors, and from his own experience. By C. J. HEMPEL, M.D. 428 pages. 8vo. Cloth, ... $3 00

This is the most elaborate treatise on the subject in print. The work is divided into four divisions, of which the first treats on Primary Forms of Venereal Diseases, in four chapters: On the Venereal Phenomena in general; the Different Forms of Gonorrhœa; the Various Forms of Chancre; and other Primary Forms of Syphilis. The second division, on Secondary Forms of Syphilis, treats in three chapters, of Secondary Syphilis generally; Syphilitic Cutaneous Affections, and Intermediate Forms of Syphilis. The third division: General Pathological Observations on Syphilis and its course generally, in three chapters; Pathological Nature and Origin of Syphilis; on Venereal Contagia; General Development, Course, and Termination of Syphilis. The fourth division: General Therapeutic Observations on the Treatment of Syphilis; General Diagnostic Remarks; General Therapeutic Observations; Pharmaco-dynamic Observations, and Addenda.

JONES, DR. SAMUEL A. The Grounds of Homœopathic Faith. Three Lectures, delivered at the request of Matriculates of the Department of Medicine and Surgery (Old School) of the University of Michigan. By SAMUEL A. JONES, M.D., Professor of Materia Medica, Therapeutics, and Experimental Pathogenesy in the Homœopathic Medical College of the University of Michigan, etc., etc. 92 pages. 12mo. Cloth, per dozen, $3; per hundred, $20, ... 30 cts.

Lecture first is on The Law of Similars; its Claim to be a Science in that it Enables Perversion. Lecture second, The Single Remedy a Necessity of Science. Lecture third, The Minimum Dose an Inevitable Sequence. A fourth Lecture, on The Dynamization Theory, was to have finished the course, but was prevented by the approach of final examinations, the preparation for which left no time for hearing evening lectures. The Lectures are issued in a convenient size for the coat-pocket; and as an earnest testimony to the truth, we believe they will find their way into many a homœopathic household.

JOHNSON, DR. I. D. Therapeutic Key; or Practical Guide for the Homœopathic Treatment of Acute Diseases. Third edition. 312 pages.
Bound in linen, ... $1 50
Bound in flexible cover, ... $2 00

This has been one of the best selling works on our shelves; more copies being in circulation of this than of any two other professional works put together. It is safe to say that there are but few homœopathic practitioners in this country but have one or more copies of this little remembrancer in their possession.

JOHNSON, DR. I. D. A Guide to Homœopathic Practice. Designed for the use of Families and Private Individuals. 494 pages. Cloth, ... $2 00

This is the latest work on Domestic Practice issued, and the well and favorably known author has surpassed himself. In his book fifty-six remedies are introduced for internal application, and four for external use. The work consists of two parts. Part I is subdivided into seventeen chapters, each being devoted to a special part of the body, or to a peculiar class of disease. Part II contains a short and concise Materia Medica, i. e., gives the symptoms peculiar to each remedy. The whole is carefully written with a view of avoiding technical terms as much as possible, thus insuring its comprehension by any person of ordinary intelligence. A complete set of remedies in vials holding over fifty doses each, is furnished for $7, or in vials holding over one hundred doses each for $10, or book and case complete for $9 or $12 respectively. Address orders to Boericke & Tafel's Pharmacies at New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Chicago, New Orleans, or San Francisco.

JOSLIN, DR. B. F. Principles of Homœopathy. In a Series of Lectures. 185 pages. 12mo. Cloth, ... 60 cts.

JOSLIN, DR. B. F. Homœopathic Treatment of Epidemic Cholera. Third edition, with additions. 252 pages. 12mo. Cloth, 75 cts.

This work offers the advantage of a threefold arrangement of the principal medicines, viz., with reference, I—to the varieties of cholera; II—to its stages; and III—to its symptoms as arranged in repertories. These last will give the work a permanent value in treating the more frequent complaints of summer.

LAURIE AND McCLATCHEY. The Homœopathic Domestic Medicine. By JOSEPH LAURIE, M.D. Ninth American, from the Twenty-first English edition. Edited and revised, with numerous and important additions, and the introduction of the new remedies. By R. J. McCLATCHEY, M.D. 1044 pages. 8vo. Half morocco, ... $5 00

"We do not hesitate to indorse the claims made by the publishers, that this is the most complete, clear, and comprehensive treatise on the domestic homœopathic treatment of diseases extant. This handsome volume of nearly eleven hundred pages is divided into six parts. Part one is introductory, and is almost faultless. It gives the most complete and exact directions for the maintenance of health, and of the method of investigating the condition of the sick, and of discriminating between different diseases. It is written in the most lucid style, and is above all things wonderfully free from technicalities. Part two treats of symptoms, character, distinctions, and treatment of general diseases, together with a chapter on casualties. Part three takes up diseases peculiar to women. Part four is devoted to the disorders of infancy and childhood. Part five gives the characteristic symptoms of the medicines referred to in the body of the work, while Part six introduces the repertory."—Hahnemannian Monthly.

"Of the usefulness of this work in cases where no educated homœopathic physician is within reach, there can be no question. There is no doubt that domestic homœopathy has done much to make the science known; it has also saved lives in emergencies. The practice has never been so well presented to the public as in this excellent volume."—New Eng. Med. Gazette.

A complete set of remedies of one hundred and four vials, containing over fifty doses each, is furnished for $12, put up in an elegant mahogany case. A similar set in vials containing over one hundred doses each, is furnished for $18, or book and case complete for $17 or $23 respectively. Address orders to Boericke & Tafel's Pharmacies at New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Chicago, New Orleans, or San Francisco.

LILIENTHAL, DR. S. Homœopathic Therapeutics. By S. LILIENTHAL, M.D., Editor of North American Journal of Homœopathy, Professor of Clinical Medicine and Psychology in the New York Homœopathic Medical College, and Professor of Theory and Practice in the New York College Hospital for Women, etc. Second edition. 8vo, $5 00
Half morocco, ... $6 00

"Certainly no one in our ranks is so well qualified for this work as he who has done it, and in considering the work done, we must have a true conception of the proper sphere of such a work. For the fresh graduate, this book will be invaluable, and to all such we unhesitatingly and very earnestly commend it. To the older one, who says he has no use for this book, we have nothing to say. He is a good one to avoid when well, and to dread when ill. We also hope that he is severely an unicum."—Prof. Sam. A. Jones in American Homœopathist.

" . . . It is an extraordinary useful book, and those who add it to their library will never feel regret, for we are not saying too much in pronouncing it the best work on therapeutics in homœopathic (or any other) literature. With this under one elbow, and Hering's or Allen's Materia Medica under the other, the careful homœopathic practitioner can refute Neimayer's too confident assertion, 'I declare it idle to hope for a time when a medical prescription should be the simple resultant of known quantities.' Doctor, by all means buy Lilienthal's Homœopathic Therapeutics. It contains a mine of wealth."—Prof. Chas. Gatchel in Ibid.

LILIENTHAL, DR. S. A Treatise on Diseases of the Skin. A new edition in preparation for the press.

LUTZE, DR. A. Manual of Homœopathic Theory and Practice, designed for the use of Physicians and Families. Translated from the German, with additions by C. J. HEMPEL, M.D. From the sixtieth thousand of the German edition. 750 pages. 8vo. Half leather, ... $2 50

This work, from the pen of the late Dr. Lutze, has the largest circulation of any homœopathic work in Germany, no less than sixty thousand copies having been sold. The introduction, occupying over fifty pages, contains the question of dose, and rules for examining the patient, and diet; the next sixty pages contain a condensed pathogenesis of the remedies treated of in the work; the description and treatment of diseases occupy four hundred and eighteen pages, and the whole concludes with one hundred and seventy-three pages of repertory and a copious index, thus forming a concise and complete work on theory and practice.

MALAN, H. Family Guide to the Administration of Homœopathic Remedies. 112 pages. 32mo. Cloth, ... 30 cts.

MANUAL OF HOMŒOPATHIC VETERINARY PRACTICE. Designed for all kinds of Domestic Animals and Fowls, prescribing their proper treatment when injured or diseased, and their particular care and general management in health. Second and enlarged edition. 684 pages. 8vo. Half morocco, ... $5 00

"In order to rightly estimate the value and comprehensiveness of this great work, the reader should compare it, as we have done, with the best of those already before the public. In size, fulness, and practical value it is head and shoulders above the very best of them, while in many most important disorders it is far superior to them altogether, containing, as it does, recent forms of disease of which they make no mention."—Hahnemannian Monthly.

MARSDEN, DR. J. H. Handbook of Practical Midwifery, with full instructions for the Homœopathic Treatment of the Diseases of Pregnancy, and the Accidents and Diseases incident to Labor and the Puerperal State. By J. H. MARSDEN, A.M., M.D. 315 pages. Cloth, ... $2 25.

"It is seldom we have perused a textbook with such entire satisfaction as this. The author has certainly succeeded in his design of furnishing the student and young practitioner, within as narrow limits as possible, all necessary instruction in practical midwifery. The work shows on every page extended research and thorough practical knowledge. The style is clear, the array of facts unique, and the deductions judicious and practical. We are particularly pleased with his discussion of the management of labor, and the management of mother and child immediately after the birth, but much is left open to the common-sense and practical judgment of the attendant in peculiar and individual cases."—Homœopathic Times.

MOHR, DR. CHARLES. The Incompatible Remedies of the Homœopathic Materia Medica. By CHARLES MOHR, M.D., Lecturer of Homœopathic Pharmaceutics, Hahnemann Medical College, Philadelphia. (A paper read before the Homœopathic Medical Society of the County of Philadelphia.) Pamphlet, in paper cover, . . 10 cts.

This is an interesting paper, which will well repay perusal and study. It gives a list of fifty-seven remedies and their incompatibles, diligently collated from the best-known sources.

MORGAN, DR. W. The Homœopathic Treatment of Indigestion, Constipation, and Hæmorrhoids. Edited with Notes and Annotations by A. E. SMALL, M.D. 166 pages 12mo. Cloth, 60 cts.

Diseases resulting from irregularity or debility of the digestive organs are so frequent in their occurrence, that scarcely a family can be found in which one or more of its members are not sufferers thereby. The present work gives in a concise manner the hygienic measures as well as the medical treatment that should be observed, calculated not only to obviate the necessity of recourse to dangerous palliatives, but to promote a complete restoration of health.

MORGAN, DR. W. The Textbook for Domestic Practice; being plain and concise directions for the Administration of Homœopathic Medicines in Simple Ailments. 191 pages. 32mo. Cloth, . 50 cts.

PHYSICIAN'S VISITING LIST AND POCKET REPERTORY, THE HOMŒOPATHIC. By. Robert Faulkner, M.D. Second edition, ... $2 00

"Dr. Faulkner's Visiting List is well adapted to render the details of daily work more perfectly recorded than any book prepared for the same purpose with which we have hitherto met. It commences with Almanacs for 1877 and 1878; then follow an obstetric calendar; a list of Poisons and their Antidotes; an account of Marshall Hall's ready method in Asphyxia; a Repertory of between sixty and seventy pages; pages marked for general memoranda; Vaccination Records; Record of Deaths; Nurses; Friends and others; Obstetric Record, which is especially complete; and finally, pages ruled to keep notes of daily visits, and also spaces marked for name of the medicine ordered on each day. The plan devised is so simple, so efficient, and so clear, that we illustrate it on a scale just half the size of the original (here follows illustration). The list is not divided into special months, but its use may be as easily commenced in the middle of the year as at the beginning. We heartily recommend Faulkner's List to our colleagues who may be now making preparations for the duties of 1878."—Monthly Homœopathic Review, London.

RAUE, DR. C. G. Special Pathology and Diagnosis, with Therapeutic Hints. 344 pages. 8vo. Half morocco, ... $5 00

This standard work is used as a textbook in all our colleges, and is found in almost every physician's library. An especially commendable feature is that it contains the application of nearly all the new remedies contained in Dr. Hale's work on Materia Medica.

"The people, and especially the women, need enlightening on many points connected with their physical life, and the time is fast approaching when it will no longer be thought singular or 'Yankeeish' that a woman should be instructed in regard to her sexuality, its organs and their functions. . . . Dr. Verdi is doing a good work in writing such books, and we trust he will continue in the course he has adopted of educating the mother and daughters. The book is handsomely presented. It is printed with good type on fine paper, and is neatly and substantially bound."—Hahnemannian Monthly.

HOMŒOPATHIC JOURNALS.

THE NORTH AMERICAN JOURNAL OF HOMŒOPATHY.

SAMUEL A. LILIENTHAL, M.D., Editor. Boericke & Tafel, Publishers. Quarterly. Subscription price per year, payable in advance, $4 00

This is the oldest Homœopathic Journal in this country, being now in its twenty-seventh year. The first volume was published in 1851, under the editorship of C. Hering, M.D., of Philadelphia; E. E. Marcy, M.D., and J. W. Metcalfe, M.D., of New York. In 1856, E. E. Marcy and J. C. Peters, M.D., of New York; Wm. H. Holcombe, M.D., of Waterproof, La., and H. C. Preston, M.D., of Providence, R. I., appear as editors. In 1860, Dr. J. C. Peters, with a corps of assistant editors, assumed charge; and from 1861 until 1869 the late Dr. F. W. Hunt virtually edited the Journal, although his name did not always appear as such. In 1870, Dr. S. Lilienthal became associated with Dr. Hunt as co-editor, and since 1871 Dr. Samuel A. Lilienthal took sole charge of the Journal.

The Journal had its ups and downs during the long years of its existence, but under the administration of indefatigable Dr. Lilienthal it entered on a career of prosperity such as it never enjoyed before, and it is safe to say that it never before had as many friends, as valuable original or translated articles, and as large a subscription list.

The Twenty-eighth Volume of this Journal commences in August, 1879. Subscriptions please address to the publication office as follows:

BOERICKE & TAFEL,
145 Grand Street, New York.

ADDENDA.

PATHOGENETIC OUTLINES OF HOMŒOPATHIC DRUGS.

By DR. CARL HEINIGKE of Leipzig. Translated from the German by EMIL TIETZE, M.D., of Philadelphia. 576 pages. 8vo. Cloth, $3.50.

This work, but shortly issued, is already meeting with a large sale and an appreciative reception.

It differs from most works of its class in these respects:

1. That the symptomatic outlines of the various drugs are based exclusively upon the "pathogenetic" results of provings.
2. That the anatomico-physiological arrangement of the symptoms renders easier the understanding and survey of the provings.
3. That the pathogenetic pictures drawn of most of the drugs, gives the reader a clearer idea, and a more exact impression of the action of the various remedies.

Each remedy is introduced with a brief account of its preparation, duration of action, and antidotes.

FOURTH EDITION NOW READY.

THE LIFE AND TIMES OF BENJ. FRANKLIN.

It is a thrilling biography, true to life, and a faithful and concise history of the stirring times when the "Current Reformation," struggled for its very existence. The Great Men who were associated with Benj. Franklin in his successful reformatory movement, are brought prominently to view in this work, and it thus makes a concise history of the "Current Reformation." The work is handsomely bound, and contains 508 pages, with a portrait of Benj. Franklin.

A SYMPOSIUM ON THE HOLY SPIRIT.

By A. B. Jones, G. W. Longan, T. Munnell, J. Z. Taylor and A. Campbell.

It is the ambition of the Publisher to make this volume the first of a uniform Series; each to be composed of Essays on the living issues in Christian thought. The subjects for the different volumes will be chosen so as to make the Series comprehend a wide range. Should the plan be successful, the whole Series, when complete, will form a unique and valuable addition to the libraries of wide-awake religious people. The Publisher sincerely hopes that the reception of this book may demonstrate a general desire on the part of the public for books of like merit and method; and that he may be able in this convenient form to send broad-cast over the land, the richest thought of the ripest minds among us, and be of service to the Master's cause, and to his day and generation.

LIFE OF ELDER E. GOODWIN,

THE PIONEER PREACHER.

By Elder J. M. Mathes.

It is a neat and well-bound volume. It contains a plain and truthful account of the events in the life of one of the most remarkable men in the history of Christian civilization. It is a book that ought to be read by all, inspiring as it does, to deeds of noble, moral heroism. 314 pages; cloth, $1.50.

A HAND-BOOK OF CHRISTIAN EVIDENCE.

By LAURENCE W. SCOTT.

A compendious summary of the main proofs of Christianity. An honest and manly attempt has been made in this Hand-Book of Christian Evidence, by the Rev. Laurence W. Scott. The line of argument is more than able; it is really grand. It is followed up, moreover, with lively eloquence, noble bravery, and stout ability, such as are worthy of all praise. The whole is the result of a vast deal of reading and splendid common sense, coupled with a masculine skill in speaking to men. Taken altogether, or even in either one of its two parts, it is unanswerable, or even unassailable, as a vindication of the Christian faith. —S. S. Times, Phila. 12 mo., 314 pages; cloth, $1.50.

MOODY vs. CHRIST AND HIS APOSTLES.

By J. T. WALSH.

This is a kind, but searching inquiry into Mr. Moody's teachings concerning the terms of salvation, designed to show that said teaching is imperfect and contradictory. Full credit is given to Mr. Moody for teaching much gospel truth with great plainness and power, but when tried by the teaching of Christ and his Apostles, his teaching is seen to be seriously defective. It is good reading—good in its aim, good in its spirit, and good in its freshness and piquancy. Altogether, it is a pamphlet that ought to sell, and should be extensively circulated. 106 pages; paper, 25 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

SALVATION FROM SIN; Or, What Must I do to be Saved?

Revised and Enlarged. By Dr. John Tomline Walsh.

This tract has been the means of converting many to Christ, and now in its revised and enlarged condition, will result in accomplishing much good. It is one of the best Tracts for general distribution. Price, 15 cents.

SPECIAL AND GENERAL PROVIDENCE.

Sermon delivered by Joseph H. Foy, Pastor of Central Christian Church, St. Louis, Mo., on the morning of April 25th, 1880, and published by request. Price, 10 cents.

TRACT ON PRAYER.

By L. B. WILKES.—"I regard it the best exemplification of the subject published. It is pure gold." J. B. McCleery.—"Worth to me more than all other works on this subject." J. H. Hardin. Price, 10 cents.

UNION WITH CHRIST.

By G. W. LONGAN.—Full of soul-inspiring thought. Christian, be sure and read it. Price, 10 cents.

UNIVERSALISM EXPOSED FROM THE INNER TEMPLE.

Revised and Enlarged. By John T. Walsh. Just the thing to place in the hands of all honest enquirers, to convince them of the fallacies of Universalism. Price, 10 cents.

WHO MADE THE WORLD?

Or, an Investigation of the Bible account of Creation. By B. U. Watkins. The dialogue form was chosen for this essay because it allowed a more direct and easy solution of difficulties which have perplexed the minds of many. The author is a firm believer in the Bible, as God's own book, and by this work he expects to benefit that class of readers who have been led to doubt God s truth by the extravagant claims of scientists, and the gratuituous and unwise concessions of those who should have stood in defense of the sacred volume. Price, 10 cents.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

ENCYCLOPEDIA
EVIDENCES; OR,
Masterpieces of Many Minds.

By J. W. MONSER.

IN PRESS—WILL BE READY THIS FALL.

The author of this book has felt for many years past that such a work is sorely needed. There are only a few private libraries that are so well stocked with choice authorities as to enable the owners to range at will through the vast and multitudious lines of argumentation offered upon matters pertaining to God, Man, and Destiny. Nor does time allow this liberty unto any but the devoted scholar. And yet it is by this course only that the harmonies of evidence are manifested, the strength of the Christian apologetics set forth, and the faith of the believer universally confirmed. The streams of truth, flowing in from a thousand sources, fill up the joyous well of his salvation.

Impressed with this fact by a personal experience, which has been both a health and a delight. the writer has spared no pains to secure everything which could assist him in his laborious undertaking. The publisher therefore takes pleasure in offering to the public an "Encyclopedia on the Evidences," in which the following themes are amply treated, to wit: "God, "Creation," "Design," "Science and Religion," "Miracles," "Providence," "Moral Evil," "Man," "The Bible," "Infidelity," "Christ and Christianity," "Immortality and the Resurrection," "Retribution."

These chapters are made up of the very best things that the literary, the scientific, the rationalistic, and the religious have said in any wise favorable to truth, and contain the choicest paragraphs and sections possible, of affirmation, criticism, exegeses and eulogy. Nor are the authors cut off in the midst of a good thing. Some quotations extend over ten or even fifteen pages; some over but two, three, or five; some but over a page or half a page,—depending entirely on the merit or need of the thought treated. Almost every favorite idea and argument that has been ringing in the ears of generations of men will be found here, besides the very latest utterances from the French, German, English, and American schools of thought.

We intend this book to comprehend, at a glance, all that is needed; and that from the established authorities of the world. It is prepared to subdue Infidels, heal doubters, convert sinners, and strengthen the hands and hearts of saints. It enters the field, so far as we know, without a rival, and we invoke God's benison upon it.

It is expected to reach from 600 to 700 pages, and will be handsomely bound in Cloth, Library, and Turkey Morocco, Full Gilt.
